EXPLANATIONS OF REGULAR STATISTICAL TABLES.

General imports.—The regular statement of imports of merchandise, by articles and countries, in this publication is what is termed the statement of general imports, embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse, as distinguished from special imports, which embrace imports entered for immediate consumption and withdrawals from warehouse for consumption.

The statement of general imports and the statement of imports entered for consumption for any period will differ to the extent that the value of entries for warehouse for the period differs from the value of withdrawals from warehouse for consumption. The term "entry for consumption" is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties have been paid on the dutiable portion.

The values of articles imported since August 1, 1890, are governed by the provisions of section 19 of the act of June 10, 1890, which prescribes that the values of imported merchandise subject to ad valorem rates of duty shall be "the actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation to the United States in the principal markets of the country from whence imported and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation to the United States or consigned to the United States for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment to the United States."

Domestic exports.—The regular statement of domestic exports, by articles and countries, in this publication exhibits the exports of domestic products or manufactures, also exports of commodities of foreign origin which have been changed from the form in which they were imported or enhanced in value by further manufacture in the United States, such as sugar refined in this country from imported raw sugar, flour ground from imported wheat, and articles, utensils, etc., made from imported materials. The value of exports of domestic merchandise is their value at the time of exportation in the ports of the United States whence they are exported.

Foreign exports.—The regular statement of foreign exports, by articles, in this publication, sometimes called "reexports," exhibits exports of foreign merchandise which had been imported. The value of such commodities exported "from warehouse" is their import value; the value of such commodities exported "not from warehouse," comprising free goods mainly, is the value at the ports of the United States whence they are exported.

Warehoused merchandise.—The regular statement of articles remaining in warehouse in this publication exhibits imported merchandise in bonded warehouses. This merchandise has already appeared in the statement of general imports. The official values of the articles therein represented are the same as the import values.

Tonnage tables.—In the tables of tonnage movement in American foreign trade the tonnage is stated in net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying space after the prescribed allowances are made for crew space, engine space, etc.

Weights.—In all tables published by the Bureau the ton weight is 2,240 pounds and the hundredweight is 112 pounds, unless indicated otherwise.

Customs districts.—Statements of imports, exports, and tonnage movement are shown by customs districts, which have a certain prescribed limit of territory with a port of entry. The customs districts having the port of entry with name different from that of the customs district are the following:

DISTRICT.	Port of entry.	DISTRICT.	Port of entry.	DISTRICT.	Port of entry.

COMMERCE OF ALASKA.
COMMERCE OF HAWAII.
COMMERCE OF PORTO RICO.
COMMERCE OF THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

COMMERCE OF GUAM, MIDWAY ISLANDS, AND TUTUILA.
RECAPITULATION OF COMMERCE OF NONCONTIGUOUS TERRITORIES.
TONNAGE MOVEMENT IN THE TRADE OF THE UNITED STATES WITH ITS NONCONTIGUOUS TERRITORIES.

COMMERCE BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND ITS NONCONTIGUOUS TERRITORIES AND BETWEEN SAID TERRITORIES AND FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

The following tables show the commerce of the noncontiguous territories of the United States with the United States and with foreign countries for comparative periods of time. Customs collectors were not required prior to the act of April 29, 1902, to furnish statements of shipments of merchandise between the United States and its noncontiguous possessions.

Hawaii was annexed to the United States by act of Congress of July 7, 1898, and was made a Territory and customs district by act of April 30, 1900, which took effect June 14, 1900.

Porto Rico was taken possession of by the United States October 18, 1898, and was given a civil government and made a customs district by act of April 12, 1900, to take effect May 1, 1900.

The figures of the commerce between the Philippine Islands and the United States, while at present included in the general tables of foreign commerce of the United States, are also presented herewith in conjunction with the other tables of this group. The figures of the commerce between the Philippine Islands and foreign countries can not at present be obtained for months corresponding with those covered in the table of their commerce with the United States, and therefore the figures of foreign commerce of the islands for the corresponding months of the preceding year are presented as the most convenient means of comparing their foreign commerce with their commerce with the United States.

INTERNAL COMMERCE OF THE UNITED STATES.

JULY SUMMARY OF INTERNAL TRADE MOVEMENTS.

The Summary of Internal Commerce for July, 1907, includes tables exhibiting the comparative progress of trade movements in different parts of the United States for the month and seven months of the current and two or more preceding years. These statistics are gathered partly through the cooperation of commercial organizations and transportation companies, partly by compilation from authoritative trade publications, and to an increasing extent from official reports made by this and other departments of the public service. Statistics of domestic commerce on the Great Lakes, unless otherwise credited, are compiled from supplementary manifests prepared by masters of vessels reporting through the collectors of customs.

The tables which appear in this issue represent six different geographical sections, as follows: I. Commercial movements at interior centers; II. Coastwise commerce on the Great Lakes; III. Commercial movements at the North Atlantic seaboard; IV. Coastwise commerce at Atlantic and Gulf ports; V. Commercial movements in southern territory; and VI. Commercial movements on the Pacific coast. Other tables representing no particular geographical sections are: VII. Commercial movements on rivers and canals; VIII. Commercial movements of coal, coke, petroleum, and pig-iron production; IX. Freight rates on the Great Lakes; X. Ocean freight rates; and XI. Changes in railroad freight rates.

I.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS AT INTERIOR CENTERS.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 137.]

Arrivals of live stock at seven interior primary markets during July aggregated 3,313,065 head, a total in excess of like figures for the two preceding months as well as of the July figures in 1906 and 1905, of 3,046,479 and 2,798,639 head, respectively. As compared with July, 1906, receipts, all cities with the exception of St. Paul, show larger totals, the gains being most notable in the case of Kansas City, St. Louis, and Sioux City. Larger receipts as compared with 1906 figures are shown in the case of cattle, 783,869 head, as against 699,796; calves 85,037 head compared with 78,715; and hogs 1,777,845 head compared with 1,537,780, while the number of sheep received during the month, 632,429, is considerably below the 1906 figures of 689,607, a similar decrease being shown in the receipts of horses and mules, the respective figures being 33,885, as against 40,581 received during July, 1906. Receipts at the same cities, for the first seven months of the year, 23,365,307 head, are also in excess of the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 23,073,573 and 22,197,854 head, respectively, gains being shown by all cities except Chicago and St. Paul. In the case of Chicago the loss is due to smaller receipts of hogs, sheep, horses, and mules, the arrivals of cattle and calves showing a normal increase over the preceding year's figures. In the case of St. Paul losses in receipts during the year occurred under the head of cattle, calves, and mainly sheep. The number of cars used in carrying this inbound movement during the seven months of the year is stated as 436,221 compared with 419,146 and 395,323 for the seven months of 1906 and 1905.

Stocks of meat at the close of July in five principal markets, 335,094,398 pounds, differ but slightly from the preceding month's figures and are largely in excess of the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures. About 42 per cent of the total stocks are credited to Chicago, over 20 per cent to Kansas City, over 16 per cent to Omaha, about 14 per cent to St. Joseph, and less than 8 per cent to Milwaukee. The increase of stocks is most pronounced in the case of Chicago, the July, 1907, figures being over 38 per cent in excess of the corresponding July, 1906, figures.

Shipments of packing-house products from Chicago during July totaled 203,001,111 pounds compared with 205,881,032 pounds and 195,668,804 pounds shipped during July, 1906 and 1905, respectively. For the first time a comparison of the monthly 1907 figures with those for 1906 shows gains in the shipments of some important articles. Thus shipments of pickled beef for the month were 3,279,600 pounds compared with 2,081,600 pounds shipped during July, 1906; canned meats 8,979,600 pounds compared with 4,830,975 pounds shipped during July, 1906, and 8,732,550 pounds shipped during July, 1905; cured meats 62,544,269 pounds compared with 60,064,898 pounds shipped during July, 1906; lard 33,457,279 pounds compared with 29,665,611 pounds shipped during July, 1906. Losses as compared with July, 1906, figures are shown in the shipments of the following food products: fresh beef 77,020,047 pounds compared with 90,034,429 pounds; and pork 2,037,200 pounds compared with 2,605,200, pounds. The July shipments of canned meats are larger than any monthly shipments since June, 1906, with the exception of October, 1906, for which month 9,074,550, pounds were reported. Figures for the seven months of the year, 1,428,750,567 pounds, while below the corresponding 1906 figures of 1,691,887,602, pounds show a slight increase over the 1905 figures of 1,414,250,902 pounds. The shipments of canned meats for the seven months, 40,759,800 pounds, are about 50 per cent below like shipments in 1906.

Grain receipts during July at fifteen interior primary markets, 47,976,765 bushels, are considerably below the corresponding 1906 and even 1905 figures of 63,444,247 and 56,094,795 bushels, respectively. Smaller receipts for the month are shown by the more important markets; thus Chicago reports 14,592,540 bushels compared with 22,423,616 bushels received during July, 1906; Kansas City 5,004,000 bushels compared with 8,506,000 bushels, and St. Louis 5,000,911 bushels compared with 6,997,603 bushels. The more northern markets, such as Duluth, Minneapolis, and Milwaukee, show normal gains as compared with 1906 receipts. Of the total grain receipts for the month at the cities considered, 18,223,991 bushels was wheat, 16,937,410 bushels corn, 10,848,282 bushels oats, 1,626,446 bushels barley, 340,636 bushels rye, and 1,426,646 bushels flaxseed, the corresponding 1906 figures being wheat, 29,016,174 bushels; corn, 16,774,745 bushels; oats, 15,165,885 bushels; barley, 2,174,663 bushels; rye, 312,780 bushels; and flaxseed, 2,479,266 bushels. The large loss in the receipts of wheat and oats is the most noteworthy fact revealed by these figures.

Grain shipments, during the month, from the same markets, 40,583,555 bushels, are in excess of the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures, 38,434,183 and 37,353,886 bushels, respectively. Larger shipments are shown by Chicago, 17,414,844 bushels compared with 14,306,174 bushels shipped in July, 1906; Duluth, 5,515,623 bushels, compared with 4,245,713; and St. Louis, 3,185,723 bushels, compared with 3,034,753. Kansas City, Minneapolis, Omaha, and Peoria, on the other hand, show smaller shipments than during July, 1906. Shipments, during the month, of wheat and oats, 9,522,557 and 10,670,914 bushels, while below the corresponding 1906 figures, do not show, however, the same rate of shrinkage as is shown by the receipts of these articles.

The grain receipts at these cities for the eleven months of the crop period, 766,357,592 bushels, while slightly lower than the 1906 figures, 775,879,875 bushels, are about 100 million bushels larger than the 1905 figures. The receipts of wheat, oats, and barley show slightly lower figures, while the receipts of corn and rye show slightly larger figures than like 1906 receipts. Minneapolis, with 89,280,560 bushels, Duluth, with 52,211,514 bushels, and Kansas City with 31,653,000 bushels, are credited in the aggregate with about 75 per cent of the entire wheat receipts for the season. Of the total corn receipts, Chicago, with 115,232,948 bushels; and St. Louis, with 33,190,195 bushels, took about 60 per cent, while about 65 per cent of the total oats receipts for the season were marketed at Chicago, St. Louis, and Minneapolis; Chicago alone receiving 82,379,321 bushels, or over 40 per cent of the total oats receipts for the season.

Wheat receipts at four leading spring wheat markets for the crop year beginning August 1, totaled 177,180,787 bushels, compared with 172,458,354 and 146,303,900 bushels received at these markets during the crop years 1906 and 1905. Over one-half of the total receipts were taken by Minneapolis, viz, 90,475,431 bushels, about 30 per cent by Duluth, less than 14 per cent by Chicago, and the rest by Milwaukee. As compared with the previous year's receipts, Minneapolis and Chicago show losses, while Milwaukee and Duluth show gains. The receipts at the four leading winter wheat markets for the month of July, 5,172,209 bushels, are considerably below the July, 1906, receipts, 12,073,444, Toledo, St. Louis, and Detroit all showing smaller receipts than a year ago, only Kansas City showing a gain as compared with July, 1906, figures.

Figures of wheat consumption by principal mills in the northwest for the four weeks ending July 28, 6,662,000 bushels, are over 10 per cent below the corresponding 1906 returns, the figures of flour output for the same period showing a corresponding decrease from 1,659,000 barrels to 1,480,000 barrels. Figures for the season beginning September 1, 98,326,000 bushels of wheat consumed and 21,850,000 barrels of flour produced, are likewise below the corresponding 1906 figures of 100,654,000 bushels of wheat and 22,367,000 barrels of flour.

Eastbound trunk line movements of provisions from Chicago and Chicago Junction points during the five weeks ending July, 112,007 tons, show a considerable improvement over the corresponding 1906 figures of 89,036 tons, being even larger than the July, 1905, figures of 103,107 tons. Figures for thirty-one weeks of the season, 693,216 tons, are, however, much below the corresponding 1906 and 1905, figures of 839,717 tons and 774,902 tons, respectively. Like movements of grain for the five weeks in July, 8,370,000, were largely in excess of the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 5,175,000 and 4,787,000 bushels, respectively. The season figures, 79,153,000, while but slightly in excess of the 1906 figures of 74,466,000 bushels, are about 29 per cent in excess of the 1905 totals. The flour movement during July, 362,498 barrels, also shows a large gain compared with the 1906 and 1905 figures of 274,953 and 241,076 barrels, respectively. The season figures, 3,730,262 barrels, show a normal growth compared with the 1906 figures of 3,570,322 barrels, and are about 30 per cent larger than the corresponding 1905 figures.

Shipments of grain by rail from Buffalo during July totaled 6,470,000 bushels, or about 20 per cent less than during July, 1906, the decrease being due to the shrinkage in the shipments of oats, only partially compensated by larger shipments of wheat during the month. The July shipments by canal, 2,533,152 bushels, are also below the corresponding 1906 figures of 2,826,777 bushels, losses appearing in the shipments of corn and oats, while the wheat shipments show a considerable increase. Of the total eastward grain shipments for the season, 37,035,000 bushels are reported to have chosen the rail route and 7,883,809 bushels the canal route. Of the total wheat shipments 18,105,000 bushels were shipped by rail and 3,939,335 bushels by canal. Of the corn shipments 11,052,000 bushels went by rail and 985,492 bushels by water. Of oats 6,895,000 bushels were shipped by rail and 2,210,584 by canal.

II.—DOMESTIC COMMERCE ON THE GREAT LAKES.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 145.]

Receipts of merchandise during the month at the various lake ports, notwithstanding the partial suspension of ore shipments from the more important Lake Superior ports during part of the month because of the ore handlers' strike, totaled 11,098,373 net tons, or 6 per cent in excess of 1906 and 19 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1905 figures. The total for the month was made up of 6,274,740 net tons of ore and minerals; 2,965,201 net tons of coal; 510,222 net tons of grain and flaxseed; 389,664 net tons of lumber; 115,763 net tons of flour, and 842,783 net tons of unclassified merchandise. Receipts for the seven months of the year, 35,654,438 net tons, show an even larger growth as compared with the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 31,683,075 net tons and 29,031,405 net tons, respectively. The total iron ore receipts for the seven months of the season, exclusive of quantities imported from Canada, aggregated 16,969,273 gross tons, constituting practically one-half of the total lake receipts for the season, and probably not less than two-thirds of the entire eastbound traffic on the Great Lakes. By far the greater part of the iron ore is being received at the Lake Erie ports. The figures for the seven months of the current season, 14,686,833 gross tons, compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 figures of 13,994,586 gross tons. The receipts at other but Lake Erie ports, mainly Chicago and Milwaukee, for the seven months of the season, 2,282,440 gross tons, likewise show a slight increase over the corresponding 1906 figures of 2,238,180 gross tons. The July receipts at Indiana Harbor, were 6,993 gross tons, marking the first receipts for the new plant of the U. S. Steel Corporation.

Coastwise arrivals at lake ports during July numbered 10,860 vessels of 13,963,429 net tons, compared with 11,770 vessels of 13,472,575 net tons reported during July, 1906. Arrivals for the seven months of the year include 35,924 vessels of 46,050,182 net tons, compared with 37,277 vessels of 43,502,405 net tons for the corresponding 1906 period. Of the total arrivals during the season, Duluth is credited with 1,503 vessels representing a tonnage of 3,856,004. The port next in order of importance appears to be Chicago, which is credited with 3,271 vessels and a tonnage of 3,675,853. Arrivals at Milwaukee during the season numbered 2,763 vessels of 3,642,323 net tons. Fourth in order of importance is Buffalo, which reports 1,443 vessels arrived, and a tonnage movement of 2,914,007, while Superior, with 1,179 vessels arrived and a tonnage of 2,903,188, and Cleveland with 1,800 vessels and a tonnage of 2,882,581, are the only other ports whose arrivals aggregated more than 2 million tons for the seven months of the season. It should be noted, though, that the above figures, while including all coastwise arrivals from other customs districts, take but partial account of vessel movements within the same district.

Freight traffic through the canals of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and Ontario, Canada, during July aggregated 7,193,236 net tons, compared with 7,732,771 net tons, and 6,703,760 net tons reported for July, 1906 and 1905, respectively. The decrease as compared with the 1906 figures is due almost entirely to a shrinkage in the eastbound shipments of iron ore, on account of the Lake Superior ore strike. Of the total tonnage which passed through the canal during the month, 5,257,243 net tons represented an eastbound movement and 1,935,993 net tons a westbound movement, the corresponding 1906 figures being 6,273,734 net tons and 1,459,037 net tons, respectively. The total number of vessels which passed through the canal during the month, 2,793 of 5,296,514 net tons, show a similar decrease as compared with the corresponding 1906 figures of 3,365 vessels of 6,043,956 net tons. Notwithstanding the decreased shipments because of the strike at the head of the lakes, 86 per cent of the total eastward freight for the month is represented by iron ore as compared with 90 per cent during July, 1906. Other important items of the eastbound movement for July were wheat 11,101,018 bushels, other grain 6,129,492 bushels, flour 604,954 barrels, and lumber 95,908,000 feet. Of the westbound freight over 80 per cent, viz, 1,574,914 net tons, was represented by soft coal and 196,395 net tons by hard coal. The total freight tonnage for the season passing through the canal, 24,981,555 net tons, is considerably larger than the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 22,710,551 net tons and 19,837,204 net tons, while corresponding figures of vessel movements are 9,165 vessels of 18,803,253 net tons for the current season, as compared with 10,451 vessels of 18,368,692 net tons for the 1906 season and 9,989 vessels of 16,672,165 net tons for the 1905 season.

Freight traffic through the Detroit River during July aggregated 9,607,142 net tons, compared with 8,213,564 net tons reported for July, 1906. Of the total freight tonnage, 3,246,652 net tons represented a northbound and 6,360,490 net tons a southbound movement. Of the latter movement over three-fourths was represented by iron ore, while other important items of this movement were corn 7,533,578 bushels, wheat 4,910,736 bushels, flaxseed 2,577,372 bushels, oats 1,629,556 bushels, and lumber 73,406,000 feet. With the exception of oats and lumber all items for the month show larger figures than for July, 1906. Of the northbound movement for the month over 75 per cent, viz, 2,441,920 net tons, was soft coal and 532,931 net tons hard coal, these figures also being largely in excess of the 1906 figures. The freight figures for the five months of the year ending July, 29,690,393 net tons, compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 figures of 24,965,410 net tons, the largest gains being shown by the figures of grain (except oats) and coal, while losses occur under the head of lumber, copper, and pig iron. The vessel movement through the river for the month aggregated 3,519 vessels of 6,803,007 net tons, of which 1,725 vessels of 3,360,561 net tons moved northward and 1,794 vessels of 3,442,446 net tons southward. Figures for the five months ending July aggregated 11,029 vessels of 21,705,031 net tons, compared with 10,981 vessels of 20,369,593 net tons reported for the corresponding 1906 period.

III.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS AT THE NORTH ATLANTIC SEABOARD.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 153.]

Live-stock receipts at Boston during July were 194,536 head, compared with 168,317 head received during July, 1906, while figures for the seven months ending July, 1,039,035 head, are slightly below the 1906 figures of 1,127,029 head.

New York receipts during the four weeks ending July 29, 1907, 370,264 head, are slightly above the corresponding 1906 figures of 353,095 head, larger receipts being shown by hogs, calves, and cattle, while the number of sheep received during July of the current year is over 15 per cent below the corresponding 1906 figures. Totals for the thirty weeks ending July 29, 2,412,866 head, are slightly below the corresponding 1906 figures of 2,430,528 head, the loss being due, however, exclusively to smaller receipts of sheep.

Philadelphia receipts aggregate 71,762 head for the five weeks ending August 3, as compared with 58,116 head reported for the corresponding 1906 period, all classes of animals showing larger receipts, particularly hogs and cattle. Figures for the thirty-one weeks ending August 3, 424,149, are, however, slightly lower than the corresponding 1906 figures, 426,004 head, though the loss is due entirely to smaller receipts of sheep, both the figures of cattle and hogs being larger this year than a year ago.

Receipts of live stock at Baltimore during July, 148,070 head, are almost 30 per cent larger than the 1906 receipts, considerable gains being shown in the receipts of hogs, sheep, and cattle. The figures for the seven months, 798,763 head, likewise compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 figures, 743,672 head, all classes of animals, with the exception of horses and mules, showing substantial gains as compared with last year's figures, the largest increase occurring under the head of sheep.

Receipts of grain and grain products at Boston during the month, 2,466,551 bushels, were more than double the quantities received during the corresponding 1906 period, the large gain being due chiefly to the increase in wheat receipts, from 181,347 bushels to 1,281,242 bushels. Increased receipts of corn, oats, and flour contributed likewise, though to a less degree, to the more favorable total for the month. Receipts for the seven months of the year, 20,775,823 bushels, are, however, still below the corresponding 1906 figures of 21,307,607 bushels, owing mainly to smaller receipts during the season of wheat, oats, and corn meal, only partially compensated by increased receipts of corn and flour.

New York receipts of grain and grain products for the month aggregated 9,459,401 bushels, compared with 8,280,295 and 8,194,974 bushels received during the corresponding months in 1906 and 1905. Of the total receipts wheat constituted 1,520,200 bushels, corn 3,632,425 bushels, oats 1,415,400, and flour — a wheat equivalent of 2,145,492 bushels. About 27 per cent of the grain is stated to have arrived by all-rail routes, nearly 55 per cent by the lake-and-rail route, and over 18 per cent by canal. Of the total monthly wheat receipts, more than one-half appears to have chosen the canal route, almost 40 per cent the lake-and-rail route, and less than 6 per cent all-rail routes. Practically all the corn arrived during the month by the lake-and-rail route, while of oats 45 per cent was brought to market by all-rail routes, over 15 per cent by lake and rail, and about 40 per cent by the canal route. Receipts for the seven months of the year, 69,300,372 bushels, show a normal increase over the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 64,392,879 and 57,705,908 bushels, respectively, increased receipts being shown by wheat, corn, rye, and flour, while oats, barley, corn meal, and malt show smaller receipts for the current season as compared with the preceding season's figures.

Grain and flour receipts at Philadelphia for the month, 3,777,024 bushels, show a large increase over the corresponding 1906 figures of 2,131,491 bushels, the gains being especially notable under the head of corn and flour. Figures for the seven months of the year, 26,693,102 bushels, likewise compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 figures of 23,030,620 bushels, the gain being due chiefly to larger wheat receipts, while receipts of corn, and particularly oats, show considerable losses for the season.

Grain and flour receipts at Baltimore for the month, 3,928,885 bushels, are also considerably in excess of the 1906 figures of 3,180,494 bushels, the gain being due to increased receipts of corn, while receipts of the other cereals, particularly wheat, show losses. Figures for the seven months of the year, 30,630,133 bushels, are slightly below the corresponding 1906 figures of 31,974,800 bushels, the loss being due to smaller receipts of wheat, oats, rye, and malt, only partially compensated by larger receipts of corn and flour.

IV.—COASTWISE COMMERCE AT ATLANTIC AND GULF PORTS.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 159.]

Coastwise receipts of southern pine at New York during the month ending July 25, 42,859,543 feet, for the first time in the year show a considerable increase over the corresponding 1906 figures of 36,709,799 feet, while the receipts for the seven months of the year, 252,163,736 feet, are about 22 per cent below corresponding 1906 receipts. The season figures are lower for practically all the more important shipping ports, thus: Jacksonville, Fla., shows 50,670,438 feet shipped during the current season, compared with 61,450,984 feet shipped during the corresponding 1906 period; Savannah, Ga., 46,050,005 feet, compared with 50,877,303 feet; Georgetown, S. C., 36,185,726 feet, compared with 41,095,201 feet; Charleston, S. C., 25,757,099 feet, compared with 30,480,882 feet; Brunswick, Ga., 23,333,227 feet, compared with 23,910,362 feet, and Fernandina, Fla., 12,477,451 feet, compared with 21,469,268 feet. The only two more important ports showing larger shipments for the season are Wilmington, N. C., which reports 19,726,574 feet, compared with 15,677,906 feet shipped in 1906, and Port Royal, S. C., which is credited with 6,554,540 feet, as against 5,915,251 feet in 1906. A little over one-half of the quantity received during the seven months, viz, 126,879,664 feet, was brought to port in sailing vessels.

Coastwise arrivals at Boston during July aggregated 1,112 vessels of 1,009,709 gross tons, compared with 797 vessels of 875,614 gross tons reported for July, 1906. Of the total arrivals for the month, 631 vessels of 676,796 tons are credited to southern ports and 481 vessels of 332,913 tons to eastern ports. Of the total arrivals, 357 vessels of 518,666 gross tons were steamers and 153 of 111,107 tons schooners, the rest of the movement being represented by tugs and barges engaged in local traffic mainly. The total coastwise arrivals for the seven months of the year, comprising 5,613 vessels of 5,774,238 gross tons, are likewise in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures of 4,986 vessels of 5,256,028 gross tons. Of the total coastwise arrivals for the season, 3,725 vessels of 4,230,478 gross tons were reported from southern ports, while 1,888 vessels of 1,543,760 tons are stated to have arrived from eastern ports. Foreign arrivals for the seven months of the current year comprise 821 vessels of 1,670,824 net tons, compared with 906 vessels of 1,725,544 net tons reported during the corresponding period of 1906.

New York coastwise arrivals during July comprised 607 vessels, of which 307 were reported from southern ports and 300 from eastern ports. Of the total number 252 were steamers, 354 schooners, and 1 bark. Corresponding 1906 figures were 659 coastwise arrivals, of which 299 reported from southern ports and 360 from eastern ports. Coastwise arrivals for the seven months of the year included 3,614 vessels, of which 2,004 were credited to southern ports, as against 4,085 vessels reported during the 1906 season, of which 2,188 were credited to southern ports. Arrivals in the foreign trade for the season aggregated 2,689 vessels, of which 394 were of American register and 2,295 under foreign flags. Corresponding figures for 1906 were 2,644 foreign arrivals, of which 436 were American vessels and 2,208 vessels under foreign flags.

Arrivals in the coastwise trade at Philadelphia during the month comprised 415 American vessels, compared with 410 reported for July, 1906, while arrivals in the foreign trade numbered 154, of which 12 represented the number of American vessels and 142 that of vessels sailing under foreign flags. Coastwise arrivals for the seven months of the year numbered 2,468, compared with 2,419 reported for the corresponding 1906 period, while arrivals in the foreign trade comprised 879 vessels (as against 804 in 1906), of which 807 were of foreign nationality and 72 of American register.

Total vessel arrivals at Mobile during the month comprised 81 vessels of 67,190 tons, compared with 78 vessels of 64,274 tons reported during July, 1906. The total movement during the month comprised 66 steamers of 61,653 tons, of which 56 of 50,222 tons arrived in the foreign trade and 10 of 11,431 tons coastwise, besides 15 sailing vessels of 5,537 tons. Total arrivals for the seven months of the year numbered 625 vessels of 530,944 tons, of which 425 vessels of 434,872 tons were steamers and 200 of 96,072 tons were sailing vessels. The corresponding 1906 figures, 622 vessels of 527,275 tons, were composed of 452 steamers of 445,786 tons and 170 sailing vessels of 81,489 tons.

V.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS IN SOUTHERN TERRITORY.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 162.]

The customary monthly statement of cotton receipts, overland movement, distribution, and stocks is omitted for July, the secretary of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, whose figures are used, not reporting the July and August figures separately, in view of the comparative smallness of the quantities handled. The table published in the June Summary is reprinted in the present issue. Cotton receipts at 29 leading interior markets for the period beginning September 1, 1906, to August 2 aggregated 6,925,850 bales, compared with 5,213,193 and 6,341,082 received at the same points during corresponding periods in 1906 and 1905. Houston, Tex., with 2,930,707 bales, Memphis, Tenn., with 954,211, and St. Louis, Mo., with 787,551, are credited with over two-thirds of the total interior receipts, while Augusta, Ga., and Little Rock, Ark., are the only other two markets showing receipts in excess of one-quarter million bales each. Cotton receipts for the season at United States ports aggregated 9,816,281 bales, compared with 7,780,687 and 9,977,197 bales received during the corresponding periods in 1906 and 1905. Galveston with 3,859,261 bales, New Orleans with 2,271,320 bales, and Savannah with 1,469,894 bales, are credited in the aggregate with over three-fourths of the total port receipts for the season, the only other ports showing receipts in excess of one-quarter million bales being Norfolk with 585,139 bales, Wilmington with 322,088 bales, and Mobile with 256,549 bales. Of the total seaboard receipts, 6,915,877 bales, or about 70 per cent, are credited to Gulf ports, and 2,900,404 bales to Atlantic ports.

Receipts of rough rice at New Orleans during July, 31,091 sacks, compare favorably with the July, 1906, receipts of 10,627 sacks, though being somewhat below the 1905 receipts of 32,484 sacks. The total receipts for the season, 1,274,097 sacks, while about 45 per cent in excess of the 1906 season receipts of 879,272 sacks, are, however, below the 1905 receipts of 1,364,368 sacks. Receipts of cleaned rice for the month, 5,119 pockets, are considerably below the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 40,342 and 19,597 pockets, while the receipts for the season, 756,355 pockets, are somewhat larger than the 1906 figures of 740,258 pockets, though considerably below the 1905 receipts of 902,793 pockets. The shipments of clean rice during the month under consideration, 78,451 pockets, are less than one-half the shipments during July, 1906, 165,302 pockets, and even 40 per cent below the 1905 figures of 136,994 pockets, while the figures for the season, 2,048,654 pockets, show but slight differences from the 1906 and 1905 shipments of 2,147,342 and 2,029,016 pockets, respectively.

Shipments of pine lumber from Virginia and the Carolinas during the month, 42,602,809 feet, were largely in excess of July, 1906, shipments of 27,845,123 feet. Over 78 per cent of the total shipments went by rail, the largest consignments being directed to Pennsylvania, 7,053,412 feet, New York State 5,675,157 feet, Philadelphia 3,986,369 feet, Virginia 3,478,494 feet, New York City 3,127,330 feet, and Baltimore 3,106,095 feet. New York, Connecticut, and Baltimore seem to be the only destinations to which considerable shipments by water were made during the month, the respective figures being 1,901,955 feet, 1,211,846 feet, and 2,175,042 feet. The total shipments for the seven months of the year, 282,549,685 feet, are over 17 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures of 240,949,898 feet.

June shipments of yellow pine from eight Southern and Southwestern States are given as 301,668,263 feet, compared with 236,210,970 feet shipped during June, 1906, and 283,047,346 feet shipped during June, 1905. Figures for the first half of the year, 1,991,613,200 feet, are 16 per cent in excess of corresponding 1906 figures and 26 per cent in excess of 1905 figures. The largest takings for the season are credited to Texas, which received 264,193,671 feet, Illinois 242,055,539 feet, Missouri 190,702,462 feet, Kansas 118,442,926 feet, and Indiana 100,669,588 feet, all of these States showing substantial increases over the preceding year's figures. The number of cars required to handle this movement was 118,796 during the six months of the current year, compared with 101,687 required during the corresponding 1906 period.

VI.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 166.]

Shipments of redwood lumber from upper California during July aggregated 35,805,624 feet, compared with 32,356,967 feet and 33,878,140 feet shipped during the corresponding 1906 and 1905 periods. Of the total shipments for the month, 19,979,163 feet are credited to Humboldt and Del Norte counties and 15,826,461 to Mendocino County. About three-fourths of the total, viz, 26,463,128 feet, were destined to San Francisco Bay, about 17 per cent to southern California, and the rest to miscellaneous, including foreign, ports. The total shipments for the seven months of the year, 260,158,173 feet, are over 27 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures and about 35 per cent larger than the corresponding 1905 figures. The growth of shipments during the present year is due almost exclusively to the larger quantities shipped to San Francisco Bay, the respective figures, 186,091,874 feet, being about 40 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures.

Arrivals of pine and fir at California points during July, 78,954,620 feet, are considerably below the figures for the earlier months of the year and even lower than the corresponding 1906 figures. The total arrivals for the seven months of the year, 863,818,070 feet, are, however, over 40 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures. About two-thirds of the total arrivals of the less valuable lumber is credited to San Francisco Bay, while the remainder appears to have been shipped to southern California points.

Shipments of citrus fruit from southern California during July aggregated 1,636 cars, of which 1,161 cars were oranges and 475 cars lemons. Total shipments for the month are largely in excess of the July shipments during the two previous years, though the figures for the nine months of the season, 26,065 cars, are but slightly in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures of 24,480 cars, and below the corresponding total of 1905, 28,495 cars.

Grain and flour receipts at San Francisco during the month aggregated 860,949 bushels, compared with 840,580 bushels received during July, 1906. Of the total receipts, about 73 per cent are credited to the interior and about 27 per cent to Oregon and Washington points. Figures for the seven months, 8,282,749 bushels, are more than 30 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures, the gain being most notable in the receipts of flour, barley, and oats, while the wheat receipts show a considerable decrease, corresponding to decreased wheat exports, and a large increase in the barley exports from the port during the current season. Live stock arrivals from the interior and California coast during seven months, 27,729 head, are considerably below the corresponding 1906 figures of 40,456 head, while receipts of sugar, mainly from Hawaii, for the same period, 321,094,100 pounds, are about 35 per cent less than the corresponding 1906 figures. The coal receipts for the same period, 194,456 tons, show a similar decrease.

Vessel arrivals at San Francisco during July aggregated 375,778 net registered tons, compared with 272,295 tons for July, 1906, while like figures for seven months, 2,658,723 tons, are also largely in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures of 2,007,221 tons. Of the total arrivals during the month, 260,072 tons represent a coastwise movement, while 115,706 tons a movement in the foreign trade. Like figures for the seven months of the year were 1,892,542 tons in the coastwise trade and 766,181 tons in the foreign trade, compared with 1,378,663 tons and 628,558 tons for the 1906 season.

July shipments of lumber from Portland, Oreg., 7,642,764 feet, show a considerable shrinkage as compared with shipments during the earlier months of the year and the corresponding 1906 figures. Of the total, 4,677,764 feet represent an export movement, while 2,965,000 feet domestic shipments. Figures for the seven months of the year, 110,683,287 feet, of which 61,378,772 feet represent domestic shipments, are somewhat below the 1906 shipments of 124,935,344 feet, the decrease affecting chiefly the lumber exports during the year. Wheat shipments for the month, 62,792 bushels, were all destined to domestic points. Of the total flour shipments for the month, 68,676 barrels, only 16,772 barrels were consigned to domestic destinations. Shipments of wheat during the seven months of the year (of which exports constituted 85 per cent) were 4,150,918 bushels, while shipments of flour, also nearly all exports, aggregated 1,040,941 barrels.

Grain shipments from Tacoma during the month, 25,528 bushels, show considerable losses as compared with July, 1906, figures of 284,919 bushels, the latter including considerable foreign shipments, none of which were reported for the month under consideration, and a much larger coastwise movement. Figures for the seven months, 1,796,460 bushels, are likewise much below the corresponding 1906 figures of 4,032,454 bushels. The flour shipments, 123,853 barrels, of which by far the greater part were exports, are almost double the July, 1906, figures, while figures for the seven months, 903,576 barrels, are also largely in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures. Lumber shipments for the month, of which over 70 per cent were exports, aggregated 22,688,207 feet, compared with 6,897,808 feet shipped during July, 1906. Figures for the seven months of the current year, 132,540,223 feet, are about 90 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures.

Principal coastwise shipments from Seattle during July comprised 42,875 tons of coal, 982,000 feet of lumber, 9,027,000 laths and shingles, and 21,523 tons of miscellaneous merchandise, exclusive of shipments to local ports, which aggregated 9,861 tons. Shipments to southeastern Alaska comprised 376 barrels of flour, 2,389 cases of meat, 6,315 bushels of oats, 686 tons of hay, 115,000 feet of lumber, 1,145 packages of machinery, 4 locomotives, 8,574 rails, 7,680 cases of powder, 350 boxes of tin plate, and 333 cases of clothing—large gains being shown in the shipments of the more important articles as compared with the 1906 shipments. Vessel arrivals for the seven months of the year aggregated 516 in number, representing 880,087 registered tons, compared with 480 vessels of 776,379 tons reported during the corresponding 1906 period.

VII.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS ON RIVERS AND CANALS.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 170.]

Upstream traffic during July on the Monongahela River at Lock No. 1, representing the maximum upstream movement on that river, comprised 155,325 tons, compared with 165,274 tons and 134,275 tons reported for July, 1906 and 1905, respectively. Sand and gravel, constituting 47,724 and 101,172 tons, composed the bulk of this movement, the only other important item being iron and steel products, representing 2,010 tons. Downstream traffic at Lock No. 3, representing the maximum downstream movement on the river, and composed almost entirely of bituminous coal, aggregated 803,417 tons, compared with 674,638 tons and 838,460 tons reported for July, 1906 and 1905. Figures of upstream traffic for the seven months of the year, 929,411 tons, show a considerable increase over the 1906 and 1905 figures of 805,070 tons and 631,580 tons, and the same is true of the figures of downstream traffic for the seven months, 5,593,449 tons, which are about 10 and 14 per cent larger than the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 5,368,305 tons and 5,110,487 tons, respectively.

River traffic in both directions, by way of Davis Island Dam, for the month of July, 405,533 tons, shows a considerable improvement over figures of the preceding month, the downstream coal movement presenting normal tonnage figures, and the quantity of sand moving upstream being larger than usual. Tonnage figures of upstream traffic for the seven months of the year, 267,747 tons, of which about 80 per cent was sand, are considerably larger than the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures, while tonnage figures of downstream traffic, 1,902,969 tons, 97 per cent of which was coal, are largely in excess of the 1906 figures, though about one-third less than the 1905 figures. The total number of vessels passing the dam in either direction during July was 3,061, compared with 218 and 2,096 vessels reported for July, 1906 and 1905, respectively. Like figures for the seven months of the year compare favorably with the 1906 and 1905 figures of 7,317 and 12,767 vessels.

Traffic through the Louisville and Portland Canal and Falls of the Ohio River at Louisville, Ky., during July aggregated 127,896 tons, of which 114,536 tons was coal, 1,663 tons lumber, 1,208 tons iron ore and manufactures, 1,301 tons tobacco, and 6,796 tons miscellaneous merchandise. Practically all the traffic for the month moved through the canal. Figures for the seven months of the year for both waterways, 1,100,533 tons, while larger than the corresponding 1906 figures of 805,672 tons, are, however, about 15 per cent below the corresponding 1905 figures.

Arrivals of vessels at Cairo, Ill., during the month numbered 825 vessels, comprising a tonnage of 458,759 tons, compared with 502 vessels of 272,156 tons arrived during July, 1906. Of the total arrivals, 514 vessels of 299,276 tons, represented a through movement, and 311 vessels of 159,483 tons a local movement. Arrivals for the seven months of the year comprised 5,238 vessels of 3,333,054 tons, compared with 4,567 vessels of 2,626,452 tons reported during the corresponding 1906 period. By far the larger part of this movement was composed of boats and barges, numbering 3,926 of 2,818,110 tons, while the number of steamers arrived during the season was 1,312 of 514,944 tons.

The freight movement over the New York State canals during July totaled 545,640 tons, composed of 405,784 tons of way freight and 139,856 tons of through freight. Figures for the season ending July 31, 1,536,507 tons, are larger than the corresponding figures for the last three years. Of the total freight, 1,100,561 tons, or over 60 per cent, moved eastward, and 435,946 tons, or less than 40 per cent, westward.

Total freight traffic by way of the Erie Canal at Buffalo for the season to July 31 amounted to 773,419 net tons, showing a substantial gain over the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 672,101 and 330,193 net tons. Of the total traffic, 303,897 tons were receipts and 469,522 shipments. Boards and scantling amounting to 38,278,064 feet; stone, lime, and clay representing 188,945 tons, and miscellaneous merchandise constituted the bulk of the receipts, while grain, 7,883,773 bushels; boards and scantling, 38,189,569 feet; flaxseed, 66,719,768 pounds; and stone, lime, and clay, 311,808,000 pounds, were the more important items shipped.

VIII.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS OF COAL, COKE, AND PETROLEUM—PIG-IRON PRODUCTION.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 175.]

Anthracite coal shipments during July from eastern producing regions, 5,602,435 gross tons, while lower than the figures for the three preceding months, are, however, in excess of any July figures since 1901. Figures for the seven months of the year, 38,487,030 gross tons, are also the largest figures on record since 1901.

Coal and coke traffic originating on the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's lines east of Pittsburg and Erie, during the four weeks ending August 3, 1907, aggregated 5,445,145 net tons, being over 10 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures and nearly 30 per cent in excess of corresponding 1905 figures, the gain being due to increased shipments of anthracite, coke, and mainly bituminous coal. Figures for the thirty-one weeks of the year, 34,004,222 net tons, are nearly 20 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures. Of the total shipments since January 1, 22,410,402 net tons were bituminous coal, 3,332,392 net tons anthracite coal, and 8,261,428 net tons coke.

A large increase in the coal and coke traffic for the month is shown by the Norfolk and Western Railway, the July, 1907, figures, 1,356,331 net tons, being over 20 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures of 1,072,980 net tons. The movement for the seven months of the year, 8,335,633 net tons, shows a normal increase over the corresponding 1906 figures of 8,040,140 net tons.

Coal and coke shipments originating on the Buffalo, Rochester, and Pittsburg Railroad for the month of July, 1907, 695,980 tons, were more than double the corresponding 1906 figures, while figures for the seven months of the year, 4,449,368 tons, are also largely in excess of the 1906 figures, of 2,623,065 tons.

A large increase in the coal and coke traffic is also shown by the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad for the Tioga and Beech Creek districts, the July, 1907, figures, 703,826 net tons, being in excess not only of the abnormally low 1906 figures, of 207,592 net tons, but also larger than the figures for the four preceding months of the year. Figures for the seven months of the year, 4,768,810 net tons, are over 50 per cent larger than the corresponding 1906 figures.

July figures of coal and coke traffic originating on the Pittsburg and Lake Erie Railroad and short lines, 1,420,163 tons, are slightly below corresponding 1906 figures of 1,427,738 tons, the loss being due to the smaller shipments of gas and steam coal from the Pittsburg district, the figures for the Connellsville and Wampum districts, as well as those of coke shipments, showing an increase over the preceding year's returns. Figures for the seven months of the year, 9,259,078 tons, are about 7 per cent below the 1906 figures.

The estimated coke production at Connellsville, including the lower district, for the thirty-one weeks of the year, 12,679,377 net tons, are about 9 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures of 11,665,112 net tons, although the weekly average production for the month is slightly below the average for the three earlier months of the year. The number of cars used in handling this product was 447,451, compared with 446,566, the number used in 1906. Of the total number of cars handled, 151,840 were destined to Pittsburg and the river, 264,279 to points west of Pittsburg, and 31,530 to points east of Connellsville.

Figures of pig iron production (exclusive of small quantities of charcoal iron) for July, 2,259,682 gross tons, while over 12 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures, indicate, however, a daily rate of production slightly lower than that revealed by the May and June figures of the same year. Figures for the seven months of the year, 15,486,136 gross tons, are over 8 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures. Notable increases of output for the seven months are shown by the following districts: Pittsburg, 3,645,549 gross tons, compared with 3,501,773 gross tons; Mahoning Valley, 1,263,947 tons, compared with 1,101,519 tons; central and northern Ohio,

1,206,215 tons, compared with 1,119,660 tons; and more particularly the works located in the northwest, 1,948,506 tons, compared with 1,606,827 tons. The production of southern furnaces shows a rather stationary condition as compared with the 1906 output.

Runs of petroleum from wells in the Appalachian, Lima-Indiana, and Midcontinent fields during July aggregated 8,400,870 barrels. Gross stocks of the reporting pipe-line companies at the end of the month were 46,636,729 barrels, while the regular deliveries to consumers aggregated 7,922,593 barrels.

Coastwise shipments of crude oil from Port Arthur and Sabine, Tex., during July totaled 404,153 barrels, compared with 653,954 barrels, shipped during July, 1906. Shipments of refined oil during the same month aggregated 411,299 barrels, compared with only 1,521 barrels shipped during July, 1906. Total coastwise shipments during the month of oil of all varieties were 837,844 barrels, compared with 957,496 barrels shipped during July, 1906. Figures of coastwise shipments of oil for the seven months of the year, 4,633,869 barrels, are about 20 per cent below the corresponding 1906 shipments. The principal destinations of these shipments for the month in the order of their importance, appear to have been New York, 142,374 barrels; Bayonne, N. J., 139,012 barrels; Delaware River stations, 77,428 barrels; Galveston, Tex., 55,002 barrels; Baltimore, Md., 41,009 barrels; Port Tampa, Fla., 34,962 barrels, and Beverly, Mass., 31,135 barrels.

IX.—FREIGHT RATES ON THE GREAT LAKES.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 180.]

The course of freight rates during the month from and to leading ports on the Great Lakes is given for the first time. The downward course of wheat and corn rates from Duluth and Chicago to Lake Erie ports, undoubtedly the result of the ore handlers' strike in the Lake Superior region and of the consequent increase in the tonnage available for eastward grain shipments, marks the only noteworthy change in lake rates during the month.

X.—CHANGES IN OCEAN FREIGHT RATES.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 181.]

Published ocean freight rates for the three principal Atlantic ports and New Orleans for July show, on the whole, higher levels than those reported a year ago. This is particularly true of grain rates to principal European destinations. Thus, for example, the published New York grain rate to Liverpool and other British ports was between 30 and 50 per cent higher than the like 1906 rate, while the rates to German ports were about 65 per cent higher than the July, 1906, rates. Grain rates to other continental ports—for instance, Havre and Copenhagen—show even larger increases. Flour rates to British ports show higher ranges than a year ago, while like rates to Hamburg were lower. Cotton rates from New Orleans to principal European cotton ports, including Liverpool, Havre, and Bremen, also show higher ranges than a year ago, the increase being more considerable in the case of Liverpool than in the case of Bremen. The same is true of the rates from Baltimore. New York rates to Hamburg, particularly on flour, oil cake, dried apples, and resin, show lower ranges than a year ago, and the same is true of Baltimore rates to Hamburg on a large number of commodities, including apples, bran, seed meal, cotton-seed cake, hair, logs, lumber, cotton-seed oil, clover and timothy seed, and starch. Baltimore rates to Bremen seem to have been better sustained, some items mentioned above either showing no changes as compared with last year's rates or slight increases. Lumber rates from Baltimore to British ports show about the same ranges as a year before, while rates from New Orleans to these ports are considerably higher. Baltimore lumber rates to Hamburg and Bremen are lower, by 2 cents, than the July, 1906, rates, while the New Orleans rates to the same ports show but slight increases as compared with increases of rates on lumber shipped to British ports.

XI.—CHANGES IN RAILROAD FREIGHT RATES.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 183.]

Changes in railroad freight rates reported by the Interstate Commerce Commission for the month affect lake and rail, and all rail rates on glucose products from Chicago and East St. Louis to the Atlantic seaboard. The new rates, which are to go into effect September 16, are considerably lower than the rates heretofore prevailing, the reduction being, however, much larger in the case of domestic rates than in the case of export rates. Thus, for example, the domestic lake and rail rates on glucose and grape and corn sirup from Chicago to New York have been reduced from 26 to 21 cents, while the export rates to the same point have been lowered from 21 to 19½ cents only. The new all-rail rates between the same points are 25 and 22½ cents, respectively, compared with 30 and 25 cents in force at present. It is seen that the differential of 4 cents in favor of the lake and rail route has been retained on domestic traffic only, while in the case of export traffic the lake and rail route is to be favored only to the extent of 3 cents per 100 pounds.

I.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS AT INTERIOR MARKETS.

The territory embraced in this section extends from Minneapolis, in the Northwest, to Little Rock, in the Southwest, east as far as Buffalo, and south as far as the Ohio River. Interior traffic movements for July and seven months of succeeding years are shown by tables of live-stock receipts and shipments and comparative stocks of provisions at five packing-house centers; by tables of receipts and shipments of flour, grain, produce, and merchandise, and by trunk-line shipments of flour, grain, and provisions from Chicago. During the season of canal navigation, canal and rail traffic in grain, flour, and general merchandise at Buffalo is given under this section. Ohio River traffic is reported under Section VII—Commercial movements on rivers and canals.

WESTERN LIVE-STOCK MOVEMENT.

This movement includes receipts and shipments for July and seven months at important interior markets for three successive years. For receipts of live stock at other markets, whose operations are reported in this issue, reference should be made to the general trade movement of these sections.

GRAIN MOVEMENTS FOR CROP PERIODS.

In the following table an attempt is made to present grain movements at interior primary markets in such a manner as to permit of an intelligent study of the effect of each year's production upon such movements. While it is recognized that it would be impossible to present in a single table accurate crop-year periods for each grain, owing to the appreciable difference in time of the maturing and harvesting of the different cereals, it is nevertheless believed that a given period may be used which, although both over and under lapping in certain instances, is comprehensive enough to answer all practical purposes, especially where figures representing movements for cumulative periods of two or more months are employed. To make possible, therefore, the presentation of such information in a single table, September 1 has been decided upon as the fairest arbitrary date on which such statements should begin.

II.—DOMESTIC COMMERCE ON THE GREAT LAKES.

The traffic taken account of in the following tables, except where otherwise specified, is coastwise traffic only, and is confined strictly to commerce between domestic ports during the month of July and seven months ending with July. Unless otherwise credited, the statistics of domestic commerce reported herewith are compiled from supplementary manifests prepared by masters of vessels reporting through the collectors of customs.

During the month of July transactions at 147 ports of receipt and 213 ports of shipment were reported. The number of vessels arriving in July was 10,860 and the clearances numbered 10,752 vessels. The registered tonnage for the month was as follows: Arrivals, 13,963,429 net tons; clearances, 13,878,583 net tons. This total does not include the tonnage of vessels engaged in trade between the United States and Canada.

SUMMARY OF DOMESTIC LAKE TRAFFIC, JULY AND SEVEN MONTHS ENDING JULY, 1905-1907.

A summary of the lake traffic for July, compared with the corresponding months in 1905 and 1906, is given in the following table. The various quantities and units of freight are reduced to their equivalents in net tons. July receipts in 1907 at all ports reporting were 11,098,373 net tons, compared with 10,460,574 net tons in July, 1906, and 9,321,100 net tons in July, 1905. The figures of shipments of coal include coal loaded for vessels' fuel consumption.

Flaxseed receipts at lake ports during July, 1907, amounted to 2,494,904 bushels; Buffalo received 2,180,904 bushels, Cleveland 110,000 bushels, and Toledo 204,000 bushels. There were shipped during July 2,526,372 bushels.

Duluth shipped 1,337,548 bushels, and Superior-West Superior 1,188,824 bushels.

During the seven months ending July, 6,028,745 bushels were received. Buffalo received 4,844,817 bushels, Chicago-South Chicago 350,928 bushels, Cleveland 296,000 bushels, and Toledo 537,000 bushels. There were shipped 5,956,213 bushels. Duluth shipped 3,402,746 bushels, and Superior-West Superior 2,553,467 bushels.

Merchandise transported between United States points, but passing under bond through Canadian territory, is known as "in-transit" movement. That class of tonnage which required the use of the Great Lakes as a link in its journey in July consisted of the following: Receipts at Ashtabula, 75 tons of unclassified freight; Chicago-South Chicago, 3,577 tons of unclassified freight; Conneaut, 2 tons of unclassified freight, and Gladstone, 217 tons of unclassified freight. Shipments from Chicago-South Chicago, 284 tons of flour, 924,068 bushels of corn, 50,000 bushels of oats, and 3,900 tons of unclassified freight; Conneaut, 25 tons of iron manufactures and 104 tons of soft coal, and Duluth, 92 tons of unclassified freight.

The total "in-transit" movement for July was 25 tons of iron manufactures, 104 tons of soft coal, 284 tons of flour, 924,068 bushels of corn, 50,000 bushels of oats, and 7,863 tons of unclassified freight.

During July, 1907, there were inspected to vessels at Chicago, as reported by the municipal grain inspector, 9,131,844 bushels of grain, composed of 108,374 bushels rye, 335,036 bushels wheat, 8,405,101 bushels corn, and 283,333 bushels oats. During the season ending July 31, 1907, the total quantity of grain inspected before loading into vessels were 31,549,469 bushels, as compared with 27,429,836 bushels during the same period in 1906.

GRAIN RECEIPTS AT SIX DOMESTIC SEAPORTS.

Below is given a comparative table of receipts of grain, including flour and meal reduced to bushels, at six seaboard markets, during July and seven months ending July, 1905, 1906, and 1907. The figures are derived in every case from the reports of the commercial organizations closely identified with the grain trade at the respective localities. These totals serve to show the relative share of each port in this branch of domestic commerce.

IV.—COASTWISE COMMERCE AT ATLANTIC AND GULF PORTS.

The scope of commercial movements represented in this section usually includes receipts and shipments of merchandise between New York and New England ports, giving the bulk of the water-borne trade of nine of these ports with New York; coal shipments by water from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, and Newport News to seaboard points north and south; coastwise receipts of southern pine and eastern spruce, by cargoes, at New York from sources of origin; and coastwise and foreign shipping movements at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Mobile, Galveston, Port Arthur, and Sabine Pass. Coastwise coal shipments from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport News, and Norfolk are also presented. Coastwise shipments of petroleum from Texas producing territory to Atlantic and Gulf ports are given in Section VIII. Representative freight rates quoted to leading destinations on the eastern and southern coasts are shown in Section IX.

COAL SHIPMENTS BY WATER FROM NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA, BALTIMORE, NEWPORT NEWS, NORFOLK.

Through the courtesy and cooperation of nearly all of the more prominent shippers of coal by water from the middle Atlantic ports of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport News, and Norfolk, to Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific coast ports, the following figures of the coastwise coal movement have been obtained. These statistics cover probably more than 90 per cent of the shipments for the places and periods mentioned, and include both anthracite and bituminous coal. Anthracite coal is shipped principally from New York Harbor wharves. From Philadelphia shipments are primarily bituminous and secondarily anthracite. From Baltimore, Newport News, and Norfolk shipments are almost wholly bituminous. During July vessels were supplied with fuel at these five ports to the amount of 253,165 tons, and during seven months ending July, 1,881,715 tons.

During July 69 collectors of customs report 620,456 gross tons of coal loaded on vessels for fueling purposes on the Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific coasts. Of this total, 184,234 tons were placed on board vessels destined to domestic ports and 436,222 tons on foreign-bound vessels. The total value of this tonnage was reported as being $2,097,715, an average of about $3.38 per ton.

V.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS IN SOUTHERN TERRITORY.

The territory covered in this section includes that lying south of the Potomac and Ohio rivers and east of the Mississippi River and that portion west of the Mississippi included in the State of Louisiana, the Indian Territory, and Texas. The characteristic traffic movements are those of cotton, lumber, naval stores, and general commodities.

Cotton-trade reports include the statement of the quantity of the crop brought into sight and its disposition, during successive crop years, to the end of July. Other articles of traffic reported are the grain and rice movements at New Orleans, shipments of yellow pine from the Southwest and from Virginia and the Carolinas to destinations, and river and rail traffic at Louisville, Ky., and Little Rock, Ark. Southern river trade is given in Section VII, southern coastwise shipments under Section IV.

SOUTHERN COTTON MOVEMENT.

According to the practice of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, whose official figures are used, except when otherwise specified, the amount of cotton brought into sight from month to month during the season includes (1) receipts from plantations at ports; (2) receipts at the overland points of crossing on the Mississippi, Ohio, and Potomac rivers for shipment direct to northern and eastern mills; and (3) takings by southern mills. To this must be added (4) stocks left over at the end of the year at ports and interior towns. These four items together give the total commercial supply available for distribution.

VI.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

Traffic operations reported in this territory consist mainly of receipts from productive areas on the Pacific slope at seaboard ports of outlet, of coastwise movements between the upper and the lower Pacific coasts, and of overland shipments to the East. The operations usually reported include receipts and shipments of merchandise at San Francisco; redwood-lumber shipments from upper California; arrivals of redwood, pine, and fir at California coast points; lumber shipments from principal mills reporting in Washington; commerce at the ports of Portland, Seattle, and Tacoma, and the shipments of citrus fruit from southern California.

VII.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS ON RIVERS AND CANALS.

The movements of domestic trade represented under this heading are not confined to any particular geographical division of the country. Operations on some of the leading waterways include those on the Monongahela River between Pittsburg, Pa., and Fairmont, W. Va.; the Ohio River at Davis Island dam, Bellevue, Pa., and at Louisville, Ky., the vessel movement at Cairo, Ill., on the Ohio and the Mississippi rivers; the traffic movements on the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal, connecting the Chesapeake and Delaware bays, and similar movements on various other navigable streams about whose navigation acceptable information is periodically available.

Unless otherwise specified, the data out of which the following tables are constructed are derived from monthly reports received from the engineers in charge of river and harbor improvements under the auspices of the War Department.

The maximum tonnage on the Big Sandy River for July, 1907, was at Lock No. 1, where 17,185 tons of freight passed, of which 17,175 tons were timber and ties and 10 tons miscellaneous merchandise.

The maximum tonnage on the Black Warrior River for July, 1907, was at Lock No. 8, where 2,050 tons of freight passed, of which 1,862 tons were lumber and logs and 188 tons were miscellaneous merchandise.

The maximum tonnage on the Cumberland River for July, 1907, was at Lock No. 1, where 3,434 tons of freight passed, of which 1,452 were lumber and timber, 346 grain, and 1,632 miscellaneous.

Upstream tonnage on the Kentucky River during July, 1907, was largest at Lock No. 1, where 6,201 tons of freight passed, of which 4,639 tons were coal and 1,562 tons were miscellaneous merchandise. Downstream tonnage at Lock No. 6 aggregated 32,931 tons of miscellaneous freight. The grand total freight passing in both directions at locks of maximum tonnage was 39,132 tons.

Upstream tonnage on the Muskingum River during July, 1907, was largest at Lock No. 9, where 1,375 tons of freight passed, of which 22 tons were coal, 62 tons were lumber, and 1,291 tons miscellaneous merchandise. Downstream tonnage was largest at Lock No. 3, where 1,773 tons of freight passed, of which 95 tons were lumber and 1,678 merchandise. The grand total freight passing in both directions at locks of maximum tonnage was 3,148 tons.

TRAFFIC ON THE MONONGAHELA RIVER.

The iron and steel products passing Lock No. 1 represent practically the entire river traffic of these products. The coal passing downstream through Lock No. 3, plus 59,100 tons mined in the first and second pools during July, makes a total coal traffic of 859,620 tons for the river during July. Of other downstream freight, 2,897 tons of miscellaneous merchandise are to be added, making a total of 862,517 net tons in July. Lock No. 3 represents approximately the general aggregate of down-river tonnage.

Of upstream freight, that passing through Lock No. 1 represents approximately the general movement in this direction. The freight passing this point in July amounted to 155,325 tons.

The total freight moved in both directions, on this basis of calculation, was 1,017,842 net tons in July, 1907, as against 904,315 net tons in July, 1906, and 1,042,967 tons in July, 1905.

For seven months ending with July the total movement was 6,981,422 tons in 1907, 6,640,022 tons in 1906, and 6,505,352 tons in 1905.

VESSEL MOVEMENT ON THE MISSISSIPPI AND OHIO RIVERS VIA CAIRO, ILL.

The following table is compiled from monthly reports received from Cairo, Ill., giving the number and tonnage of vessels passing or having their termini there. The tonnage of boats and barges is estimated tonnage. The tonnage of steamboats is actual.

The total through movement represents vessels passing Cairo to or from points on the Ohio, Mississippi, and other rivers. The local movement at Cairo represents vessels having Cairo as one of their termini. (The monthly reports of arrivals and clearances are made by Mr. George Parsons, trustee of Cairo trust property, who is intimately acquainted with river operations at this point.)

For the seven months ending July 31, 1907, of the vessels reported, 1,175 were loaded with coal; 376 carried lumber, logs, piling, and wood; 33 carried ties; 315 carried merchandise; 15 rocks; 3 grain; 1 blocks; 9 brick; 4 sugar; 5 manufactured iron; 4 wheat; and 1 wire.

VIII.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS OF COAL, COKE, AND PETROLEUM—PRODUCTION OF PIG IRON.

The series of tables following present some of the leading traffic operations in domestic coal, coke, and petroleum; also figures of pig-iron production by principal districts. They include shipments of anthracite coal from the anthracite regions, anthracite and bituminous coal and coke traffic originating east of Pittsburg and Erie on the Pennsylvania Railroad system; coal and coke shipments over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, the Norfolk and Western Railroad, the Southern Railway, and other eastern roads, weekly Connellsville coke output and shipments; St. Louis receipts of coal, and receipts and shipments of coal and coke at Chicago. Petroleum statistics are included for the pipe-line territory in the Appalachian, Lima-Indiana, and Midcontinental fields. Statistics of pig-iron production cover the principal producing districts and are exclusive of small quantities of charcoal iron. For coastwise coal trade generally, see Section IV; for Lake trade, Section II.

STATEMENT OF PIPE LINES IN APPALACHIAN, LIMA-INDIANA, AND MIDCONTINENT FIELDS.

The following table shows the business of the principal petroleum pipe lines in the Appalachian, Lima-Indiana, and Midcontinent fields. The Appalachian field includes Pennsylvania, New York, West Virginia, southeastern Ohio, Kentucky, and Tennessee. The Lima-Indiana field includes northwestern Ohio, Indiana, and a small production in Illinois. The Midcontinent field includes Kansas, Indian Territory, and Oklahoma.

The pipe lines which report no runs from wells receive their oil through other pipe lines. The regular deliveries represent deliveries to refineries and for export, and do not include deliveries to other pipe lines. The runs from wells represent Appalachian oil exclusively in all cases except three, namely: The Buckeye, which receives Appalachian crude from southeastern Ohio, and Lima-Indiana crude from northwestern Ohio; the Indiana Pipe Line Company, which receives crude from Indiana and Illinois, and the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, which operates in the Midcontinent field.

Prior to August, 1906, the Buckeye pipe line reported separately its Appalachian crude, and its Lima-Indiana crude was reported jointly with that of the Indiana pipe line. Also, prior to this date, the pipe lines distinguished deliveries and net stocks of Appalachian oil from those of Lima-Indiana oil, but at present the deliveries and stocks of several of the companies reported in the following table include both kinds of crude oil.

Net stocks, often called liabilities, represent the amount of oil for which the pipe lines have receipted to producers and which they are liable for. In addition, the pipe lines hold a certain amount of sediment and surplus oil which, combined with net stocks, constitute gross stocks.

XI.—CHANGES IN RAILROAD FREIGHT RATES.

Changes in railroad freight rates are obtained through the courtesy of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the auditor of that body transmitting them on the latest date which will permit of their insertion in the Summary. In this manner their publication is assured as soon after their receipt as possible, and as a rule they cover a period nearly a month later than that represented by other statements throughout this report.

The matter of deciding what changes shall be considered of enough importance to be presented is left entirely to the discretion of the Commission, all tables which they submit being published without reservation of any kind. This, however, must not be taken to indicate that all important changes are included, as such a presentation would be a practical impossibility, owing to the great number of tariffs to be examined and the short time in which to procure the rates therefrom.

MONTHLY SUMMARY
OF THE
UNITED STATES

AUGUST, 1907

WASHINGTON
GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE
1907

EXPLANATIONS OF REGULAR STATISTICAL TABLES.

General imports.—The regular statement of imports of merchandise, by articles and countries, in this publication is what is termed the statement of general imports, embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse, as distinguished from special imports, which embrace imports entered for immediate consumption and withdrawals from warehouse for consumption.

The statement of general imports and the statement of imports entered for consumption for any period will differ to the extent that the value of entries for warehouse for the period differs from the value of withdrawals from warehouse for consumption. The term "entry for consumption" is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties have been paid on the dutiable portion.

The values of articles imported since August 1, 1890, are governed by the provisions of section 19 of the act of June 10, 1890, which prescribes that the values of imported merchandise subject to ad valorem rates of duty shall be "the actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation to the United States in the principal markets of the country from whence imported and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation to the United States or consigned to the United States for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment to the United States."

Domestic exports.—The regular statement of domestic exports, by articles and countries, in this publication exhibits the exports of domestic products or manufactures, also exports of commodities of foreign origin which have been changed from the form in which they were imported or enhanced in value by further manufacture in the United States, such as sugar refined in this country from imported raw sugar, flour ground from imported wheat, and articles, utensils, etc., made from imported materials. The value of exports of domestic merchandise is their value at the time of exportation in the ports of the United States whence they are exported.

Foreign exports.—The regular statement of foreign exports, by articles, in this publication, sometimes called "reexports," exhibits exports of foreign merchandise which had been imported. The value of such commodities exported "from warehouse" is their import value; the value of such commodities exported "not from warehouse," comprising free goods mainly, is the value at the ports of the United States whence they are exported.

Warehoused merchandise.—The regular statement of articles remaining in warehouse in this publication exhibits imported merchandise in bonded warehouses. This merchandise has already appeared in the statement of general imports. The official values of the articles therein represented are the same as the import values.

Tonnage tables.—In the tables of tonnage movement in American foreign trade the tonnage is stated in net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying space after the prescribed allowances are made for crew space, engine space, etc.

Weights.—In all tables published by the Bureau the ton weight is 2,240 pounds and the hundredweight is 112 pounds, unless indicated otherwise.

Customs districts.—Statements of imports, exports, and tonnage movement are shown by customs districts, which have a certain prescribed limit of territory with a port of entry. The customs districts having the port of entry with name different from that of the customs district are the following:

DISTRICT.	Port of entry.	DISTRICT.	Port of entry.	DISTRICT.	Port of entry.

COMMERCE OF PORTO RICO.
COMMERCE OF THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

COMMERCE OF GUAM, MIDWAY ISLANDS, AND TUTUILA.
RECAPITULATION OF COMMERCE OF NONCONTIGUOUS TERRITORIES.
ITS NONCONTIGUOUS TERRITORIES.

COMMERCE BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND ITS NONCONTIGUOUS TERRITORIES AND BETWEEN SAID TERRITORIES AND FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

The following tables show the commerce of the noncontiguous territories of the United States with the United States and with foreign countries for comparative periods of time. Customs collectors were not required prior to the act of April 29, 1902, to furnish statements of shipments of merchandise between the United States and its noncontiguous possessions.

Hawaii was annexed to the United States by act of Congress of July 7, 1898, and was made a Territory and customs district by act of April 30, 1900, which took effect June 14, 1900.

Porto Rico was taken possession of by the United States October 18, 1898, and was given a civil government and made a customs district by act of April 12, 1900, to take effect May 1, 1900.

The figures of the commerce between the Philippine Islands and the United States, while at present included in the general tables of foreign commerce of the United States, are also presented herewith in conjunction with the other tables of this group.

INTERNAL COMMERCE OF THE UNITED STATES.

AUGUST SUMMARY OF INTERNAL TRADE MOVEMENTS.

The Summary of Internal Commerce for August, 1907, includes tables exhibiting the comparative progress of trade movements in different parts of the United States for the month and eight months of the current and two or more preceding years. These statistics are gathered partly through the cooperation of commercial organizations and transportation companies, partly by compilation from authoritative trade publications, and to an increasing extent from official reports made by this and other departments of the public service. Statistics of domestic commerce on the Great Lakes, unless otherwise credited, are compiled from supplementary manifests prepared by masters of vessels reporting through the collectors of customs.

The tables which appear in this issue represent six different geographical sections, as follows: I. Commercial movements at interior centers; II. Coastwise commerce on the Great Lakes; III. Commercial movements at the North Atlantic seaboard; IV. Coastwise commerce at Atlantic and Gulf ports; V. Commercial movements in southern territory; and VI. Commercial movements on the Pacific coast. Other tables representing no particular geographical sections are: VII. Commercial movements on rivers and canals; VIII. Commercial movements of coal, coke, petroleum, and pig-iron production; IX. Ocean freight rates; and X. Changes in rail freight rates.

I.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS AT INTERIOR CENTERS.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 336.]

Arrivals of live stock at seven interior primary markets during August aggregated 3,130,225 head, showing a small loss as compared with 1906 figures of 3,295,425 head, but being slightly above the August, 1905, figures of 3,077,697 head. Chicago and Omaha show the largest losses in receipts for the month, while St. Louis and Sioux City show the largest relative gains over the corresponding 1906 figures. The smaller total for the month is due to the smaller receipts of hogs, 1,391,472 head, as compared with 1,521,681 head received during August, 1906, and of sheep, 776,359 head, as compared with 877,169 head, while receipts of cattle, 837,012 head, those of calves, 85,064 head, and those of horses and mules, 40,318 head, show small gains as compared with August, 1906, totals. Receipts of all classes of live stock at these cities for the eight months of the year, 26,495,532 head, compare favorably with corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 26,368,998 head and 25,275,551 head, respectively, Chicago being practically the only primary market showing a loss in receipts as compared with the corresponding 1906 figures. Gains for the season are shown in the receipts of cattle, calves, and hogs, while losses in the season's receipts occur under the head of sheep, horses, and mules. The number of cars used in handling this inbound movement was 496,261, compared with 480,925 for the eight months of 1906 and 457,076 for the corresponding 1905 period.

Stocks of meat at the close of August in five principal markets, 288,633,354 pounds, are considerably below the figures for the preceding months, though larger than the 1906 and 1905 August figures of 231,485,946 and 228,944,034 pounds, respectively. The largest absolute decrease in stocks is shown for Chicago, which is credited with 116,408,638 pounds, or about 40 per cent of the total stocks held. About 20 per cent of the total stocks held are credited to Kansas City; about 17 per cent to Omaha; 15 per cent to St. Joseph; and 8 per cent to Milwaukee.

Shipments of packing-house products from Chicago during August, 202,266,960 pounds, are below the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 218,619,596 pounds and 265,346,470 pounds, the main decreases occurring under the heads of fresh beef, lard, and hides. Shipments of canned meats, 9,659,550 pounds, show the largest monthly figures since June, 1906, being about double the August, 1906, figures, though 2,655,600 pounds short of the August, 1905, shipments. The figures of cured meats, 69,566,565 pounds, are over 12 million in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures, though about 11 million pounds below the corresponding 1905 shipments. Increased shipments are shown likewise for pickled beef and dressed hogs. Figures for the eight months of the year, 1,631,017,527 pounds, are below the 1906 and 1905 figures of 1,910,507,198 pounds and 1,679,597,372 pounds, respectively, decreases as compared with 1906 totals occurring under the heads of practically all important items. Thus the shipments of fresh beef for the current season were 619,065,191 pounds, compared with 765,544,042 pounds for the corresponding 1906 period; those of cured meats 498,860,928 pounds, compared with 567,951,986 pounds; those of lard 269,334,075, as against 285,667,755 pounds, and those of canned meats 50,419,350 pounds, as against 86,440,950 pounds shipped during the eight months of 1906.

Grain receipts during August at fifteen interior primary markets, 72,537,039 bushels, show a slight increase over the August, 1906, receipts of 71,384,865 bushels, though being 9 per cent below the corresponding 1905 receipts. Larger receipts are reported for St. Louis, which is credited with 10,246,781 bushels, compared with 8,616,737 bushels received during August, 1906; Kansas City, 10,076,500 bushels, compared with 8,106,500 bushels; Minneapolis, 5,945,990 bushels, compared with 4,080,010 bushels; Omaha, 5,055,200 bushels, compared with 4,974,100 bushels; Peoria, 3,628,700 bushels, compared with 3,146,300 bushels. Smaller receipts for the month are shown for Chicago, which is credited with 21,928,844 bushels, compared with 24,618,119 bushels reported for August, 1906; Toledo 3,384,800 bushels, compared with 3,807,000 bushels; Cleveland, 1,943,255 bushels, compared with 2,924,455 bushels, and Cincinnati, 1,723,178 bushels, compared with 2,138,177 bushels. Of the total grain receipts for the month at the fifteen cities considered, 31,247,541 bushels was wheat, 16,665,460 bushels corn, 21,823,676 bushels oats, 2,182,868 bushels barley, 617,494 bushels rye, and 589,995 bushels flaxseed. The corresponding 1906 figures were wheat, 27,216,105 bushels; corn, 16,268,954 bushels; oats, 25,479,139 bushels; barley, 1,868,030 bushels; rye, 552,637 bushels, and flaxseed, 1,190,917 bushels. With the exception of oats and flaxseed, gains are shown in the receipts of all classes of grains, the largest gains appearing in the wheat receipts of Kansas City, St. Louis, and Minneapolis. Grain shipments during the month from the same markets, 42,483,145 bushels, are below the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 46,864,219 bushels and 52,088,060 bushels, smaller shipments being recorded for practically all the more important markets.

Grain receipts at these markets for the twelve months of the crop period ending August 31, totaled 838,894,631 bushels, and are somewhat below the corresponding 1906 figures of 847,264,740 bushels, though almost 100,000,000 bushels in excess of the 1905 figures. Corn is the only grain for which large increases of receipts are shown in the crop year just ended, Chicago and St. Louis participating chiefly in this gain.

The wheat receipts for the season were slightly above the corresponding 1906 figures, the principal gains being shown by Duluth, Omaha, and Milwaukee, while Chicago and Minneapolis show considerable losses. The receipts of oats for the season were 10 per cent below those for the preceding year, the losses affecting mainly Duluth, Minneapolis, Peoria, and Chicago. Barley receipts were also lower for the crop year just ended than for the 1906 period, Chicago, Minneapolis, and Detroit accounting for the chief losses. Receipts of rye for the 1907 season were slightly above those for the 1906 period, Milwaukee and Minneapolis showing the largest gains as compared with the 1906 totals.

Wheat receipts at four leading spring wheat markets for the month aggregated 12,865,251 bushels, compared with 12,160,951 and 10,819,122 bushels received at these markets during August, 1906 and 1905. As compared with the returns for August, 1906, larger receipts are shown for Minneapolis and Milwaukee, while figures for Duluth and Chicago are slightly below those for August, 1906. Receipts at four leading winter wheat markets for two months ending August were 19,275,138 bushels, compared with 21,783,956 and 24,700,321 bushels received at these markets during the corresponding periods of 1906 and 1905. As compared with 1906 receipts, the Toledo and St. Louis figures show gains, while Detroit and Kansas City show losses.

Figures of wheat consumption by principal mills in the Northwest for the five weeks ending September 1, 9,904,000 bushels, are below the corresponding 1906 figures, 10,024,000 bushels, smaller monthly figures of consumption being shown for the mills in Minneapolis and Duluth. Figures for the fifty-two weeks ending September 1, 108,230,000 bushels, are also below the corresponding 1906 figures of 110,678,000 bushels, the losses affecting equally the Minneapolis and Duluth mills. The figures of flour output, 2,201,000 barrels for the five weeks named and 24,051,000 barrels for the season, show corresponding decreases compared with like figures for 1906, 2,228,000 barrels and 24,595,000 barrels.

Eastward trunk-line movements of provisions from Chicago and Chicago junction points during the five weeks ending August, 119,519 tons, compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 figures, 114,309 tons, though being more than 20,000 tons below the corresponding 1905 figures. Totals for thirty-five weeks of the season, 787,123 tons, are, however, considerably below the 1906 and 1905 figures of 954,026 and 914,835 tons, respectively. Like movements of grain for the five weeks ending August, 7,924,000 bushels, are 60 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 and slightly larger than the 1905 figures. The season figures, 85,296,000 bushels, compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures, 79,463,000 and 69,109,000 bushels. The flour movement for the five weeks, 407,222 barrels, likewise shows considerable gains over the 1906 and 1905 figures of 324,083 and 364,788 barrels, respectively, while the season's figures, 4,053,798, are about 4 per cent larger than the corresponding 1906 figures and 24 per cent in excess of the 1905 figures.

Shipments of grain by rail from Buffalo during August aggregated 5,833,000 bushels, or 20 per cent less than during August, 1906, the shrinkage being due mainly to the decreased shipments of oats, only partially compensated by larger shipments of wheat and corn. August shipments of grain by canal, 1,187,946 bushels, show an even heavier decrease as compared with like shipments for August, 1906, 2,846,008 bushels, losses affecting all classes of grains. Of the total eastward grain shipments for the season, 42,868,000 bushels are reported to have chosen the rail route and 9,071,755 bushels the canal route. Of the total wheat sent east, 20,482,000 bushels were shipped by rail and 4,358,022 bushels by canal. Of the corn shipments, 14,263,000 bushels went by rail and 1,359,402 bushels by canal. Of the oats sent east, 7,140,000 bushels were shipped by rail and 2,536,933 bushels by canal.

II.—DOMESTIC COMMERCE ON THE GREAT LAKES.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 344.]

Commercial movements on the Great Lakes during August, 1907, as measured by the volume of shipments from the various lake ports, attained a total of 12,597,866 net tons—the largest monthly total recorded for any summer month. Shipments for the past month are about 10 per cent larger in volume than the shipments for July of this year, over 15 per cent larger than the corresponding figures for 1906, and over 33 per cent in excess of the 1905 figures, while figures for the eight months of the year, 50,441,647 net tons, are about 14 per cent and 24 per cent larger than the corresponding 1906 and 1905 shipments. The large tonnage of iron ore and coal moved during the month is responsible for the growth in the total shipments recorded for the month as compared with August, 1906.

The iron ore shipments, mainly from the Lake Superior ports of Ashland, Duluth, Marquette, Superior, Two Harbors, and the Lake Michigan port of Escanaba, aggregated 6,950,343 gross tons, compared with 5,533,442 gross tons reported for August, 1906, and 6,228,230 gross tons, the earlier record figure shipped during June, 1907. The shipments of iron ore for the season up to September 1 amounted to 24,466,231 gross tons, which is over 2½ million tons in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures. The favorable total might have been even larger were it not for the interruption of ore mining and traffic during July and the still continuing shortage of the labor supply at some of the more important mines in the Lake Superior district.

Shipments of soft coal for the month, mainly from Lake Erie ports to the head of the lakes and Milwaukee, 2,045,531 net tons, while about 7 per cent larger than the August, 1906, figures, are, however, more than half a million tons below the July shipments. This decrease is to be accounted for mainly by the fact that many ore freighters, which, during the preceding month had been engaged in the carrying of grain and coal, resumed the transportation of iron ore and could not afford to incur the delay of loading coal for the return trip west. The total shipments for the eight months of the year, 9,798,209 net tons, are over 30 per cent larger than the corresponding 1906 figures. Shipments of hard coal during the month, mainly from Buffalo, 555,828 tons, were, on the other hand, larger than the July figures and somewhat below the corresponding August, 1906, figures, though shipments for the eight months, 2,309,556 net tons, are over 40 per cent in excess of like 1906 shipments.

Wheat shipments for the month, mainly from Duluth, Chicago, and Superior, 4,581,482 bushels, were about 20 per cent below the August, 1906, figures, while the total for the season, 24,916,711 bushels, was about 56 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures. Under the general head of grain the largest decrease in shipments is shown by oats, the figures for the month, 1,157,074 bushels, being about 60 per cent below the August, 1906, figures, while shipments for the season, 15,725,939 bushels, are also considerably below the August, 1906, shipments of 25,079,189 bushels. Flour shipments for the month, chiefly from Milwaukee, Superior, Chicago, and Duluth, 145,944 net tons, were about 19 per cent below the August, 1906, figures, while the total for the eight months, 706,403 net tons, was slightly above the corresponding 1906 total. Of the Lake Erie ports, to which the flour is mainly shipped, Buffalo took by far the largest share, though considerable quantities of flour were also handled at Erie, Pa.

Shipments of lumber during the month, 198,105,000 feet, while in excess of the July figures, show a smaller total as compared with the corresponding 1906 figures. Lumber shipments for the season, 898,269,000 feet, were about 24 per cent less than the corresponding 1906 figures.

The figures of copper shipments, mainly from upper Michigan mines, 8,352 gross tons, show a decrease of about 50 per cent, both as compared with the preceding month's figures as well as the figures of August, 1906, and reflect to some extent the present unsatisfactory state of the copper market. Figures for the current season, 55,648 gross tons shipped, are about 25 per cent below the corresponding 1906 figures of 74,468 net tons.

The shipments during the month of unclassified or package freight, 925,965 net tons, on the other hand, show a considerable increase over August, 1906, figures of 801,283 tons, larger shipments being credited to Milwaukee, Cleveland, and Sandusky, while shipments from Buffalo, Duluth, and Sault Ste. Marie show smaller figures than a year ago. The total for the eight months, 4,278,010 net tons, is about 15 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figure.

Coastwise arrivals at lake ports during August numbered 11,017 vessels of 14,340,035 net tons, compared with 11,406 vessels of 13,598,993 net tons reported during August, 1906. Arrivals for the eight months of the year numbered 46,941 vessels of 60,390,217 net tons, compared with 48,683 vessels of 57,101,398 net tons for the corresponding 1906 period. Of the total arrivals during the season, Duluth is credited with 2,004 vessels of 5,171,444 net tons register; Chicago with 4,317 vessels of 4,857,628 net tons; Superior with 1,534 vessels of 3,857,223 net tons; Cleveland with 2,397 vessels of 3,850,899 net tons, and Buffalo with 1,849 vessels of 3,759,788 net tons. The total tonnage of vessel arrivals at these six ports constituted over 43 per cent of the entire tonnage entered at all lake ports during the eight months of the current year. It should be noted, though, that the above figures, while including all coastwise arrivals from other customs districts, take but partial account of vessel movements within the same districts.

Freight traffic through the canals at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, and Ontario, Canada, during August aggregated 8,544,833 net tons, compared with 7,343,727 net tons and 6,327,595 net tons reported during August, 1906 and 1905, respectively. Of the total freight traffic, 6,697,307 net tons represented an eastbound and 1,847,526 net tons a westbound movement. As compared with the figures of July traffic, the August figures show an improvement by 1,351,597 net tons, due exclusively to larger figures of the eastbound iron-ore movement, which had been abnormally low during the preceding month. This movement for August was 6,120,880 net tons, as compared with 5,228,559 net tons during August, 1906, and 4,740,500 net tons during August, 1905. Other important items of the eastbound movement for the month were wheat 7,312,829 bushels; other grain 3,123,216 bushels; flour 850,935 barrels, and lumber 99,889,000 feet. It is notable that the wheat and other grain movements show a considerable decrease for the month as compared with July figures, due probably, to some extent, to the higher freight rates prevailing during August as a result of the partial resumption of operations in the Lake Superior ore region and the larger demand for ore-carrying vessels. Of the total westbound traffic, almost 80 per cent, viz, 1,448,467 net tons, was represented by soft coal and 204,589 net tons by hard coal. The total quantity of iron ore which is reported to have passed through the canals during the present season aggregated 22,485,323 net tons, compared with 21,257,365 net tons during the 1906 season and 19,596,553 net tons during the 1905 season, while the corresponding figures of the soft-coal movement were 6,328,953 net tons for the current season, compared with 4,352,419 net tons for the 1906 season and 3,427,034 net tons for the 1905 season. The total number of vessel passages for the month, 3,013, is smaller than the number recorded for August, 1906 and 1905—3,240 and 3,088, respectively, though the tonnage of the vessels locked through the canals, 6,352,462, is 11 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 and 26 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1905 figures. The total freight tonnage passing through the canals during the current season, 33,526,388 net tons, is largely in excess of the corresponding 1906 and 1905 totals, 29,954,278 and 26,164,799 net tons, respectively, while corresponding figures of vessel movements are 12,178 vessels of 25,155,715 net tons register for the current season, as compared with 13,691 vessels of 24,097,454 tons for the 1906 season and 13,077 vessels of 21,710,816 net tons for the 1905 season.

Domestic freight traffic through the Detroit River during August aggregated 10,583,878 net tons, compared with 9,909,152 net tons reported for August, 1906. The monthly tonnage of domestic freight passing through the river is over 2 million tons in excess of the corresponding tonnage of American and Canadian traffic passing through the Sault Ste. Marie canals. Of the total freight tonnage, 7,713,770 net tons represented a southbound and 2,870,108 a northbound movement; of the former movement, over 80 per cent was represented by iron ore, viz, 6,212,508 net tons, while other important items of this movement were, wheat 4,005,688 bushels; corn, 3,292,104 bushels; flour 146,501 net tons, and lumber 96,281,000 feet. Figures of all grain movements are much below those for August, 1906, the decreases being most notable in the cases of corn, oats, and barley; losses are also shown in the movements of lumber, flour, and flaxseed. Of the northbound movement for the month about 72 per cent, viz, 2,057,924 net tons, was soft coal and 553,402 net tons hard coal. The freight figures for the season up to September 1, 40,274,271 net tons, indicate a growth of traffic by over 15 per cent as compared with 1906 figures and constituted about 80 per cent of the total freight tonnage shipped from all lake ports during the same period. Vessel movements through the river for the month aggregated 3,710 vessels of 7,584,531 net tons, of which 1,784 vessels of 3,641,946 net tons moved northward and 1,926 vessels of 3,942,585 net tons southward. Figures for the six months ending August aggregated 14,739 vessels of 29,289,562 net tons, compared with 14,463 vessels of 26,897,530 net tons reported during the corresponding 1906 period.

III.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS AT THE NORTH ATLANTIC SEABOARD.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 355.]

Live-stock receipts at Boston for the month of August were 139,792 head, compared with 124,792 head received during August, 1906, the figures for the former month being exclusive of receipts of horses, which are estimated in the neighborhood of 2,000 head. Increases are noted in the receipts of all classes of animals except calves. Receipts for the eight months of the year, 1,178,827 head, are below the 1906 figures, the smaller number of hogs received being mainly responsible for the decrease in the total.

New York receipts of live stock for the five weeks ending September 2, 448,869 head, compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 receipts of 397,941 head, the receipts of all classes of animals showing larger totals than a year ago. Figures for the year to September 2, 2,861,735 head, show a normal increase over the 1906 figures of 2,828,469 head, larger receipts being shown for all classes of animals except sheep.

Receipts at Philadelphia of hogs, cattle, and sheep for the four weeks ending August 31 numbered 56,852 head, compared with 65,824 head received during the corresponding 1906 period. The season figures 480,001 head are also smaller than the corresponding 1906 figures of 491,828, though the loss in the total is due entirely to the smaller number of sheep received during the season, the receipts of cattle and hogs showing normal increases over last year's totals.

The August receipts of live stock at Baltimore, 169,326 head, are about 53,000 head in excess of the August 1906 figures, the principal gain being shown in the receipts of sheep and hogs. Figures for the eight months, 968,089 head, are over 100,000 head larger than the preceding year's figures, about 75 per cent of the gain being due to the larger number of sheep received during the season.

Receipts of grain and grain products at Boston during the month, 3,405,306 bushels (including the wheat equivalent of the flour received), were about 48 per cent in excess of the totals reported for August, 1906, the largest gain occurring under the head of wheat, of which a quantity more than double was received during August of the present year as compared with the August, 1906, figures. Corn receipts are also largely in excess of last year's figures, though less than one-third the quantity received during August, 1905, while figures of oats and flour are lower than those for 1906. Receipts for the eight months of the year, 24,181,129 bushels, compare favorably with the 1906 figures of 23,609,481 bushels, increased receipts of wheat, corn, and flour being responsible for the more favorable total.

Receipts of grain and grain products at New York during the month aggregated 8,420,647 bushels, compared with 10,322,156 and 10,115,535 bushels received during August, 1906 and 1905. Of the total receipts, wheat constituted 3,519,300 bushels, corn 1,066,825 bushels, oats 1,499,190 bushels, and flour a wheat equivalent of 1,763,680 bushels. The loss in total receipts as compared with the preceding years' figures is due to smaller receipts of corn, oats, and flour, only partially compensated by larger receipts of wheat. Of the total receipts for the month, 50 per cent is stated to have arrived by all-rail routes, about 40 per cent by the lake-and-rail route, and a little over one-half per cent by the canal route. The unusually small arrivals by canal are undoubtedly due to the obstruction to the passage of vessels which lasted through the month as a result of a break in the Erie Canal about the end of July. Total receipts for the eight months of the year, 77,721,019 bushels, compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 74,715,035 and 67,821,443 bushels, the principal grains, with the exception of oats, showing larger figures for the year as compared with the totals for the previous year. Of the total receipts, 50,187,999 bushels are credited to all-rail routes, 22,301,096 to the lake-and-rail route, 5,121,400 to the canal route, and 110,524 bushels to river and coast. Of the total wheat received during the eight months, 16,038,400 bushels, 4,808,000 bushels arrived by the all-rail routes, 8,300,000 by the lake-and-rail route, and 2,930,400 by canal. Of the total receipts of oats, 16,891,600 bushels, 13,084,500 bushels are reported to have arrived by all-rail routes, 2,332,500 by the lake-and-rail route, and 1,474,600 by canal, while of the 19,347,425 bushels of corn received, 13,053,725 bushels are credited to all-rail routes, 6,110,300 to the lake-and-rail route, and only 182,100 bushels to the canal route.

Grain and flour receipts at Philadelphia for the month, 4,693,458 bushels, show a larger total than like figures for the preceding month, as well as figures for August, 1906 and 1905, owing to the large gain in the wheat receipts. Figures for the eight months of the year, 31,386,560 bushels, are about 16 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures and almost double those for 1905. As compared with the 1906 total, large gains in receipts appear under the heads of wheat and flour, while receipts of corn and oats, especially the latter, show smaller totals than a year ago.

Receipts of flour and grain at Baltimore for the month, 3,628,676 bushels, on the other hand, are smaller than the July figures and August figures of the preceding year, the decline in the receipts of flour, wheat, and oats being responsible for the smaller total, as compared with the August, 1906, figures. Receipts for the eight months of the year, 34,258,809 bushels, of which 19.3 million bushels was corn, 8.4 million bushels flour (in terms of wheat), 3.5 million bushels wheat, and 2.2 million bushels oats, are about 2 million less than the corresponding 1906 figures, the main losses occurring under the heads of wheat and oats, while the receipts of corn, and even more so flour, show larger totals for the season than a year ago.

Grain receipts at Newport News for the month, 338,998 bushels, comprising 255,712 bushels of wheat and 83,286 bushels of corn, were considerably below the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 816,417 and 541,315 bushels. The flour receipts of 67,881 barrels are considerably in excess of the 1906 and 1905 figures of 43,364 and 48,490 barrels, respectively. Grain receipts for the eight months of the year, 2,123,348 bushels, are also considerably below the 1906 and 1905 figures, while flour receipts for the same period, 481,540 barrels, are considerably above like figures for 1906 and 1905.

IV.—COASTWISE COMMERCE AT ATLANTIC AND GULF PORTS.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 358.]

Coastwise receipts of southern pine at New York during the month ending August 25, 1907, 38,303,192 feet, show a decrease both as compared with the corresponding 1906 figures of 45,782,165 feet, as well as the July receipts of 42,859,543 feet, while receipts for the eight months of the year, 290,466,928 feet, are 27 per cent below the corresponding 1906 figures. Nearly every one of the more important shipping points shows decreased shipments for the season, as compared with last year's figures; thus Jacksonville, Fla., is credited with 58,770,129 feet, compared with 70,923,215 feet for the eight months of 1906; Savannah, Ga., with 54,073,432 feet, compared with 58,386,481 feet; Georgetown, S. C., with 38,755,246 feet, compared with 46,003,755 feet; Charleston, S. C., with 29,847,547 feet, compared with 35,028,449 feet; Brunswick, Ga., with 28,311,685 feet, compared with 29,125,702 feet, and Fernandina, Fla., with 15,662,451 feet, compared with 23,744,962 feet. The six ports named are credited with 77 per cent of the total quantity of southern pine received at New York during the current season, as compared with 71 per cent for the 1906 season. Of the total quantity received during the month, about 54 per cent was carried in steam vessels while of the total quantity received for the season only 50 per cent was carried in steam vessels.

Coastwise arrivals at Boston during August aggregated 1,022 vessels of 1,068,449 gross tons, compared with 774 vessels of 800,801 tons reported for August, 1906. Of the total arrivals for the month, 624 vessels of 703,116 tons are credited to southern ports and 398 vessels of 365,333 tons to eastern ports. About one-fourth of the total number of vessels arrived, representing, however, about one-half of the coastwise tonnage, were steamers, viz, 253 of 509,180 gross tons; 169 vessels of 149,827 tons were schooners, while the remainder of the movement was composed of tugs and barges engaged in local traffic mainly. The total coastwise arrivals for the eight months of the year, comprising 6,635 vessels of 6,842,687 gross tons, are likewise in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures of 5,760 vessels of 6,056,829 gross tons. Of the total coastwise arrivals for the season, 4,349 vessels of 4,933,594 tons were reported from southern ports, while 2,286 vessels, of 1,909,093 tons, are credited to eastern ports. Foreign arrivals for the eight months of the year comprise 988 vessels of 1,959,072 net tons, compared with 1,073 vessels of 2,026,001 net tons reported for the corresponding 1906 period. Of the total foreign arrivals for the current year, 898 vessels of 1,845,254 net tons were of foreign nationality, while 90 vessels of 113,818 net tons were of American register.

New York coastwise arrivals for the month comprised 614 vessels, of which 326 reported from eastern ports and 288 from southern ports. The total number was composed of 242 steamers, 366 schooners, 4 barks, 1 ship, and 1 brig. Corresponding 1906 figures were 672 coastwise arrivals, composed of 338 vessels reporting from eastern ports and 334 vessels reporting from southern ports. Coastwise arrivals for the eight months of the year included 4,228 vessels, of which 1,936 were credited to eastern ports, as against 4,757 vessels reported during the corresponding 1906 period, of which total 2,235 vessels were credited to eastern ports. Arrivals in the foreign trade for the eight months aggregated 3,147 vessels, of which 465 were of American register and 2,682 of foreign nationality. Corresponding 1906 figures are 3,047 foreign arrivals, of which 503 represented American vessels and 2,544 vessels under foreign flags.

Arrivals in the coastwise trade at Philadelphia during the month comprised 468 American vessels, compared with 423 reported during August, 1906, while arrivals in the foreign trade numbered 155, compared with 132 such arrivals during August, 1906. Of the total number of vessels arrived in the coastwise trade 143 were steamers, 109 schooners, 212 barges, 2 ships, and 2 barks, while of vessels arrived in the foreign trade a great majority, namely, 140, were steamers and 147 of foreign nationality. Coastwise arrivals during the eight months of the year numbered 2,936 American vessels, compared with 2,842 reported for August, 1906, while arrivals in the foreign trade during the same period comprised 1,034 vessels (as against 936 in 1906), of which 954 were of foreign nationality and 80 of American register.

Total vessel arrivals at Mobile during the month comprised 82 vessels of 67,352 tons, compared with 63 vessels of 57,065 tons reported during August, 1906. The total movement during the month comprised 58 steamers of 57,721 tons, of which 49 of 47,268 tons arrived in the foreign trade and 9 of 10,453 tons, coastwise, besides 24 sailing vessels of 9,631 tons. Total arrivals for the eight months of the year were 707 vessels of 598,296 tons, of which 483 vessels of 492,593 tons were steamers and 224 of 105,703 tons were sailing vessels. The corresponding 1906 figures, 685 vessels of 584,340 tons, were composed of 503 steamers of 496,176 tons and 182 sailing vessels of 88,164 tons.

V.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS IN SOUTHERN TERRITORY.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 361.]

In the cotton trade, August 31 marks the end of the crop year, and for this reason the figures of the cotton movement stated in this month's summary are of particular interest. The commercial movement of this article, more than that of any other agricultural crop, reflects the actual production during the year, inasmuch as the demand for local consumption, which modifies to a considerable extent the size of the commercial movements of grain and other food crops, is practically nonexistent, and the entire crop leaves the hands of the grower before entering industrial consumption. The commercial cotton crop for the year just closed, as stated by the secretary of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, 13,510,982 bales, shows an increase of 2,164,994 bales over that of 1905-6 and a decrease of 54,903 bales as compared with the record crop of 1904-5. Moreover, this crop was marketed at exceptionally high prices, so that the money return to the grower was probably higher than for any year in the history of cotton production in the United States.

Total sight receipts for the year, 13,489,337 bales, show an increase of 2,167,502 bales over like receipts for the 1905-6 season, and are only 152,134 bales less than the 1904-5 receipts. By far the larger part of the commercial supply found its way to the Atlantic and Gulf ports, the port receipts for the crop year, 9,919,555 bales, standing midway between the 1905-6 receipts of 8,029,544 and 10,319,182 bales for 1904-5.

Of the total port receipts, over 77 per cent are credited to the three ports of Galveston, New Orleans, and Savannah, Galveston alone handling almost 40 per cent of the total port receipts and about 29 per cent of the commercial crop of the country. This growing importance of Galveston as a cotton port is due of course to the enormous increase during recent years of the Texas crop (including that of Indian Territory), which, for the year just ended, constitutes just one-third of the total crop handled. Cotton receipts at 29 leading interior towns for the year ending August 31 are given as 6,972,922 bales, compared with 5,367,829 bales and 6,538,602 bales received at these towns during the corresponding periods in 1905-6 and 1904-5. The most important interior markets, in the order of their importance, are Houston, Tex., which is credited with 2,963,131 bales, or with 42.5 per cent of the entire receipts at the more important interior markets; Memphis, with 957,653 bales; St. Louis, with 790,853 bales; and Augusta, Ga., with 370,244 bales, are the only three other towns that show receipts in excess of one-quarter million bales for the season.

The total American spinners' takings, 4,965,498 bales, are likewise larger than the corresponding figures for the two preceding seasons—4,723,703 for 1905-6 and 4,445,650 for 1904-5. The total figures of domestic cotton consumption are made up of 2,526,390 bales, which represent the quantities received by northern mills, and of 2,439,108 bales, the net southern mills' takings for the season. Both northern and southern mills show figures of increased consumption for the year, as compared with the previous year's record, though the increase is larger for the northern mills than for the southern mills, the total quantity consumed by the northern mills constituting 51 per cent of the domestic spinners' takings for the season, as compared with 50 per cent for the preceding season and 51 per cent for the 1904-5 season.

Exports during the cotton year were 8,503,265 bales, compared with 6,753,534 and 8,768,125 bales shipped out of the country during the crop years of 1905-6 and 1904-5, respectively. The share which exports formed of the total crop for the year was 63 per cent, compared with 59 per cent for the preceding season and 65 per cent for the 1904-5 season.

July shipments of yellow pine from eight Southern and Southwestern States are given as 314,554,409 feet, compared with 231,988,704 feet shipped during July, 1906, and 293,832,408 feet shipped during July, 1905. Figures for the seven months of the year, 2,306,167,609 feet, are about 18 per cent larger than the 1906 and 1905 figures. The largest takings for the season are credited to Texas, which received 305,162,169 feet; Illinois, 276,067,753 feet; Missouri, 225,171,931 feet; Kansas, 139,506,500 feet, and Indiana, 116,529,780 feet, all of these States showing substantial increases over the preceding year's figures. The number of cars required to handle this movement was 138,141 during the seven months of the current year, compared with 115,427 required during the corresponding 1906 period.

VI.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 365.]

Shipments of redwood lumber from upper California during August aggregated 36,611,427 feet, compared with 25,448,874 feet and 31,285,504 feet shipped during August, 1906 and 1905. Of the total shipments for the month, 20,138,231 feet are credited to Humboldt and Del Norte counties and 16,473,196 feet to Mendocino county. Over 62 per cent of the total shipments, viz, 22,779,418 feet, were destined to San Francisco Bay, about 21 per cent to southern California points, and the rest to miscellaneous, including foreign ports. The total shipments for the eight months of the year, 296,769,600 feet, are almost 30 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures and about 32 per cent larger than the corresponding 1905 figures. The gain in shipments noted for the year falls largely to the share of San Francisco, the respective 1907 consignments, 208,871,292 feet, being about 37 per cent larger than the corresponding 1906 movement.

Arrivals of pine and fir at California points during August, 122,567,515 feet, show a considerable improvement, as compared with the figures for the earlier summer months of the current year, and are over 50 per cent larger than the August, 1906, figures. The total arrivals for the eight months of the year, 955,934,905 feet, are almost 40 per cent in excess of last year's figures, and indicate a corresponding increase in logging operations. Over 58 per cent of the total arrivals of this less valuable lumber is credited to San Francisco Bay, as compared with only 40 per cent of the 1906 shipments so credited.

Shipments of citrus fruit from southern California during August aggregated 922 cars, of which 700 cars were oranges and 222 cars lemons. The shipments for the ten months of the season, 26,987 cars, of which 23,762 cars were oranges, are somewhat larger than the 1906 season figures of 25,230 cars, though about 8 per cent below the 1905 season figures.

Receipts of grain and flour at San Francisco during the month aggregated 1,210,632 bushels, compared with 1,263,948 bushels received during August, 1906. Of the total receipts for the month, about 78 per cent are credited to the interior and about 22 per cent to Oregon and Washington points. Figures for the eight months, 9,493,381 bushels, are over 20 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures, the gains being most notable in the receipts of barley, oats, and flour, while the wheat receipts show a considerable decrease corresponding to smaller shipments by sea of wheat but largely increased shipments of flour and barley during the current season. Live stock arrivals from the interior and California coast during the eight months of the year, 34,599 head, are considerably below the corresponding 1906 figures of 46,750 head, while receipts of sugar for the season, mainly from Hawaii, 382,566,200 pounds, are about 34 per cent below the corresponding 1906 figures. Coal receipts for the same period, 209,721 tons, show a similar decrease.

Vessel arrivals at San Francisco during August aggregated 376,835 net tons register, compared with 308,582 tons for August, 1906, while figures for the eight months of the year, 3,035,558 tons, likewise compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 figures of 2,362,893 net tons. Of the total arrivals for the month, 274,386 net tons represent a coastwise movement and 102,449 tons arrivals in the foreign trade. Like figures for the eight months of the year were 2,166,928 tons in the coastwise trade and 868,630 tons in the foreign trade, comparing favorably with the corresponding 1906 figures of 1,636,255 net tons in the coastwise trade and 726,548 net tons in the foreign trade.

Shipments of lumber from Portland, Oreg., 17,490,887 feet, show a large gain, as compared with the preceding month's figures, though being 30 per cent below the August, 1906, shipments. Of the total, 12,463,887 feet represent an export movement and 5,027,000 feet domestic shipments. Figures for the eight months of the year, 128,174,174 feet, are about 22 million feet below the corresponding 1906 figures. Of the total quantity shipped during the eight months, 61,768,402 feet were exported and 66,405,772 feet were shipped coastwise to domestic ports. Total wheat shipments for the month were 124,730 bushels, of which 50,000 bushels were exported, while flour shipments aggregated 42,442 barrels, of which 31,941 were exports. Shipments of wheat for the eight months of the year, of which exports constituted almost 85 per cent, aggregated 4,275,648 bushels, while shipments of flour for the same period totaled 1,083,383 barrels, of which less than 9 per cent was shipped to domestic destinations.

Grain shipments from Tacoma during the month, 227,154 bushels, compare favorably with the August, 1906, figures of 205,581 bushels, gains being shown in the shipments of oats and barley, while figures of wheat shipments are considerably below the August, 1906, figures. About 70 per cent of the shipments is represented by exports, chiefly of oats and barley. Figures for the eight months of the year, 2,023,614 bushels, are, however, less than half the 1906 shipments, owing to smaller shipments of wheat for the year. Flour shipments for the month, 67,830 barrels, of which by far the greater part was exported, are somewhat below the August figures, though the season figures, 971,406 barrels, are over 58 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures. Lumber shipments for the month, 19,781,444 feet, of which nearly 50 per cent was exported, are largely in excess of the August, 1906, figures, 12,953,288 feet, while figures for the eight months, 152,321,667 feet, are about 82 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures.

Principal coastwise shipments from Seattle during August comprised 51,022 tons of coal, 261 head of live stock, and 17,526 tons of miscellaneous merchandise, besides 9,895 tons of merchandise shipped to local ports. Shipments to southeastern Alaska comprised 900 barrels of flour, 18,625 bushels of oats, 2,661 cases of meat, 115 tons of hay, 1,493,000 feet of lumber, 2,506 packages of machinery, 5,208 tin cans, 484 cases of powder, 11,346 rails, 2,912 cases of hardware, and 720 cases of clothing. All these items show heavier shipments for the month as compared with 1906 figures. Vessel arrivals for the eight months of the year aggregated 590 in number, representing 1,008,184 register tons, and compared favorably with 558 arrivals, comprising 915,462 tons, reported for the corresponding period in 1906.

VII.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS ON RIVERS AND CANALS.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 369.]

Upstream traffic during August on the Monongahela River at Lock No. 1, representing the maximum upstream movement on that river, comprised 166,878 tons compared with 118,822 tons and 132,575 tons reported for August, 1906 and 1905, respectively. Sand and gravel, comprising 62,069 tons and 94,310 tons respectively, composed the bulk of this movement. Downstream traffic for the month at Lock No. 3, representing the maximum downstream movement on the river, 947,447 tons, compared favorably with the 1906 and 1905 figures of 753,588 tons and 710,749 tons, respectively. Of the downstream tonnage, 923,960 tons were represented by bituminous coal and 21,103 tons by sand. Figures of upstream traffic for the eight months of the year, 1,096,289 tons, show a normal increase over the 1906 figures of 923,892 tons, and the same is true of the figures of downstream traffic for the season, 6,540,897 tons, which are about 7 per cent larger than the corresponding 1906 figures.

River traffic in both directions by way of Davis Island dam for the month, 323,033 tons, are slightly above the August, 1906, figures of 322,373 tons, although the downstream coal movement for the month, 155,855 tons, was only half the size of the August, 1906, movement, increases being shown only in the movements of sand and miscellaneous merchandise. Figures of upstream traffic for the eight months of the current year, 431,149 tons, were largely in excess of the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures, mainly on account of the larger quantity of sand shipped, while figures of downstream traffic, 2,062,600 tons, compared favorably with the corresponding 1906 figures of 1,858,304 tons, though being over 30 per cent below the 1905 figures. The total number of vessels passing the dam in either direction during August was 3,633 compared with 1,708 and 1,009 vessels reported for August, 1906 and 1905, respectively, while figures for the eight months of the year, 17,096 vessels, are also largely in excess of the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 9,025 and 13,776 vessels.

Traffic through the Louisville and Portland Canal and falls of the Ohio River at Louisville, Ky., during August, 1907, aggregated 63,052 tons compared with 144,417 tons and 37,895 tons reported for August, 1906 and 1905, the large decrease in the total for the month being due mainly to the smaller movement of coal passing through the canal. Figures for the eight months of the year, 1,163,585 tons, compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 figures of 950,089 tons, the coal movement for the season, 1,035,363 tons, being about 225,000 tons larger than the corresponding 1906 figures.

Arrivals by river at Cairo during the month numbered 673 vessels of 381,566 tons compared with 806 vessels of 453,289 tons reported for August, 1906. Of the total arrivals, 416 vessels of 243,694 tons represented a through movement and 257 vessels of 137,872 tons a local movement. Arrivals for the eight months of the year numbered 5,911 vessels of 3,714,620 tons compared with 5,373 vessels of 3,079,741 tons reported for the corresponding 1906 period. Of the total number of vessels reported for the season, 1,538 vessels of 597,810 tons were steamers and 4,373 vessels of 3,116,810 tons were boats and barges, the corresponding 1906 figures being 1,605 steamers of 561,734 tons and 3,768 boats and barges of 2,518,007 tons.

The freight movement on New York State canals during the month amounted to 407,853 tons, composed of 334,280 tons of way freight and 73,573 tons of through freight, compared with 405,784 tons of way freight and 139,856 tons of through freight carried during the preceding month and 364,042 tons of way freight and 161,978 tons of through freight carried during August, 1906. The low figures of through freight for August, 1907, are due largely to a serious break in the Erie Canal at Syracuse, which has been preventing the transit of boats for the greater part of the month. Figures of total traffic for the season until the end of August were 1,944,330 tons, compared with 1,987,218 and 1,736,397 tons for the corresponding periods in 1906 and 1905, respectively.

Figures of total freight traffic at Buffalo by way of Erie Canal for the month, 218,858 tons, are considerably below the 1906 figures, 307,759 net tons, though largely in excess of the corresponding 1905 figures of 130,758 net tons; this decrease is due to smaller shipments for the month, 118,611 net tons, compared with 211,922 net tons shipped during August, 1906, while the receipts for the month, 100,247 net tons, are slightly above the corresponding 1906 receipts of 95,837 net tons. Figures of traffic for the season, 992,277 net tons, are slightly above the 1906 figures of 979,860 net tons, though shipments for the season, 588,133, are below the corresponding 1906 figures, 620,701 net tons. Boards and scantling, stone, lime and clay, coffee, and miscellaneous merchandise constituted the principal items received, while the principal articles shipped during the season included grain, 9,071,755 bushels; flaxseed, 75,976,928 pounds; stone, lime, and clay, 516,216,000 pounds; boards and scantling, 51,389,569 feet; and miscellaneous merchandise, 4,894,500 pounds.

VIII.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS OF COAL, COKE, AND PETROLEUM—PIG-IRON PRODUCTION.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 373.]

Anthracite coal shipments from eastern producing regions during August, 5,716,252 gross tons, are larger than the July figures, though below the figures for the three earlier months of the same year, and about 6 per cent in excess of the August, 1906, shipments. Shipments for the eight months of the year, 44,203,282 gross tons, are about 24 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 totals and represent the largest season figures on record since 1901.

Coal and coke shipments originating on the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's lines east of Pittsburg and Erie during the four weeks ending August 31, 4,680,314 net tons, show a 23 per cent gain over the corresponding 1906 and a 34 per cent gain over the corresponding 1905 shipments, larger figures being shown by the shipments of coke, anthracite, and chiefly bituminous coal. Figures for thirty-five weeks of the year, 38,684,536 net tons, are nearly 20 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures. Of the total shipments since January 1, 25,599,696 net tons were bituminous coal, 3,758,153 anthracite, and 9,326,687 coke.

Movements of coal and coke during July over the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway totaled 974,151 net tons, of which 941,151 tons are reported to have originated on points along the road and 33,000 tons to have been received from connections. Figures for the year, 6,390,113 net tons, of which 6,119,981 net tons represent tonnage originating on the road itself, compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 figures, 6,182,389 net tons, the gain being due exclusively to the larger shipments of coal out of the Kanawha district.

Coal and coke shipments originating on the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg Railroad during the month of August, 676,686 tons, are about 20 per cent larger than the August, 1906, figures, while figures for the eight months of the year, 5,126,054 tons, compare even more favorably with the corresponding 1906 figures of 3,195,368 tons.

A similar improvement in the coal and coke traffic is shown by the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad figures for the Tioga and Beech Creek districts; the August, 1907, figures, 750,206 net tons, being about 25 per cent in excess of the August, 1906, figures, while the figures for the eight months, 5,519,016 net tons, are also largely in excess of like 1906 figures, viz, 3,736,836 net tons.

August figures of coal and coke traffic originating on the Pittsburg and Lake Erie Railroad and short lines, 1,515,909 net tons, are not only in excess of the 1906 figures of 1,330,610 tons, but larger than any monthly figures for the current year, large increases being shown in the shipments of coke and Pittsburg district coal. Figures for the eight months of the year, 10,774,987 tons, are about 5 per cent below the corresponding 1906 figures.

The estimated coke production at Connellsville, including the lower district, for the thirty-five weeks of the year, 14,353,552 net tons, is 8 per cent in excess of the 1906 output of 13,212,811 net tons. The average weekly output for the month, 410,101 net tons, while lower than the corresponding figures for the first twenty-six weeks of the year, 413,093 net tons, shows, however, an increase of over 1,000 tons in the weekly output as compared with the July figures. The number of cars used in shipping this product out of the district during the thirty-five weeks is stated as 504,415 compared with 501,583 used during the corresponding period of 1906. Of the total cars used, 169,969 were destined to Pittsburg and the river, 298,967 to points west of Pittsburg, and 35,677 to points east of Connellsville.

Production of coke and anthracite pig iron for the month was 2,250,410 gross tons compared with 2,255,660 tons for the preceding month and 1,926,736 tons for August, 1906. While the August figures are 5,250 tons less than the July figures, it should be noted that the output for August, 1906, was 86,666 tons less than the July, 1906, figures. Production figures for the eight months of the year, 17,732,624 gross tons, are over 9 per cent larger than the corresponding 1906 figures, while the August output is almost 17 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 total. As compared with the preceding month's record, some of the most important districts, as the Pittsburg, Shenango Valley, central and northern Ohio, and New York districts, show a slight let-up, while the furnaces in the southern district show a slight improvement as compared with June and July figures, though even in the case of these latter works the figures of the August output do not reach the May record figures.

Runs of petroleum from wells in the Appalachian, Lima-Indiana, and Midcontinent fields during August aggregated 8,430,377 barrels. Gross stocks of the reporting pipe-line companies at the end of the month are given as 48,170,683 barrels, while regular deliveries to consumers during the month aggregated 8,243,684 barrels.

Coastwise shipments of crude oil from Port Arthur and Sabine, Tex., during August aggregated 412,435 barrels compared with 431,308 barrels shipped during August, 1906; like shipments of refined oil during the same month totaled 405,801 barrels compared with only 7,808 barrels reported for August, 1906. Total coastwise shipments of oil of all varieties were 829,374 barrels compared with 721,579 barrels shipped during August, 1906. The figures of coastwise shipments of all oil for the eight months of the year, 5,463,243 barrels, are about 14 per cent below the corresponding 1906 shipments. The principal destinations of the shipments for the eight months, in the order of their importance, appear to have been New York, 1,158,028 barrels; Philadelphia, 820,358 barrels; Bayonne, N. J., 724,432 barrels; Delaware River stations, 471,396 barrels; Galveston, Tex., 264,881 barrels; Port Tampa, 253,343 barrels; Baltimore, 177,978 barrels; Beverly, Mass., 154,534 barrels; and New Orleans, 108,378 barrels.

IX.—FREIGHT RATES ON THE GREAT LAKES.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 378.]

The course of freight rates on the Great Lakes during the month remained unchanged, except that the rate on corn from Chicago to Lake Erie ports, which was as low as 1 cent per bushel on the first of the month, showed an upward tendency, going up as high as 1½ cents during the latter half of the month, but falling again to 1½ cents, which rate prevailed during the last week of the month. The rate from Duluth to Lake Erie ports shows a more steady advance from 1 to 1½ cents, which was the rate quoted at the end of the month.

X.—CHANGES IN OCEAN FREIGHT RATES.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 379.]

Published ocean freight rates from the three principal Atlantic ports and New Orleans for August on grain shipped to principal European destinations show higher levels than a year ago, New York spot rates to Liverpool ranging between 1½ to 2 pence per bushel, as compared with 1½ pence asked during August, 1906. Grain rates at the same ports to Hamburg, Rotterdam, Marseille, and Havre show like increases. Boston grain rates also show higher levels than a year ago, though being slightly lower than the New York rates. The New Orleans grain rates show less of change than those from Atlantic ports, the rates to Liverpool, Hamburg, and Rotterdam being slightly lower than during August of 1906. The cotton rates from New Orleans show but slight changes as compared with last year's quotations, while similar rates from Baltimore to Bremen and Havre are higher than those quoted during August, 1906. The New Orleans rates on cotton-seed products show higher quotations for the month than a year ago, while like rates from Baltimore show either no changes, or, in the case of shipments to German ports, lower quotations than a year ago.

XI.—CHANGES IN RAILROAD FREIGHT RATES.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 381.]

Changes in railroad freight rates reported by the Interstate Commerce Commission for the month of September involve, among others, a readjustment of rates from St. Louis via East St. Louis to Central Freight and Trunk Line Freight Association territories, including the Atlantic seaports. The rates on both domestic and export traffic have been reduced through the lowering of the bridge "arbitraries" beginning September 1, 1907. These differentials between the rates from St. Louis and the rates from East St. Louis, which, on classes 1, 2, 3, and 4, had been 1 cent until that date, have been reduced to one-half cent per 100 pounds, while the "arbitraries" for classes 5 and 6, which had been one-half cent, have been entirely eliminated, making the rates from St. Louis and East St. Louis equal on traffic of the last two named classes. Some minor changes are also announced in the local rates on grain and grain products from Kansas City, Mo., to Galveston, Tex., the new rates going into effect September 17.

I.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS AT INTERIOR MARKETS.

The territory embraced in this section extends from Minneapolis, in the Northwest, to Little Rock, in the Southwest, east as far as Buffalo, and south as far as the Ohio River. Interior traffic movements for August and eight months of succeeding years are shown by tables of live-stock receipts and shipments and comparative stocks of provisions at five packing-house centers; by tables of receipts and shipments of flour, grain, produce, and merchandise, and by trunk-line shipments of flour, grain, and provisions from Chicago. During the season of canal navigation, canal and rail traffic in grain, flour, and general merchandise at Buffalo is given under this section. Ohio River traffic is reported under Section VII—Commercial movements on rivers and canals.

WESTERN LIVE-STOCK MOVEMENT.

This movement includes receipts and shipments for August and eight months at important interior markets for three successive years. For receipts of live stock at other markets, whose operations are reported in this issue, reference should be made to the general trade movement of these sections.

COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS OF LIVE STOCK AT INTERIOR MARKETS DURING AUGUST AND EIGHT MONTHS ENDING AUGUST, 1905-1907.

GRAIN MOVEMENTS FOR CROP PERIODS.

In the following table an attempt is made to present grain movements at interior primary markets in such a manner as to permit of an intelligent study of the effect of each year's production upon such movements. While it is recognized that it would be impossible to present in a single table accurate crop-year periods for each grain, owing to the appreciable difference in time of the maturing and harvesting of the different cereals, it is nevertheless believed that a given period may be used which, although both over and under lapping in certain instances, is comprehensive enough to answer all practical purposes, especially where figures representing movements for cumulative periods of two or more months are employed. To make possible, therefore, the presentation of such information in a single table, September 1 has been decided upon as the fairest arbitrary date on which such statements should begin.

II.—DOMESTIC COMMERCE ON THE GREAT LAKES.

The traffic taken account of in the following tables, except where otherwise specified, is coastwise traffic only, and is confined strictly to commerce between domestic ports during the month of August and eight months ending with August. Unless otherwise credited, the statistics of domestic commerce reported herewith are compiled from supplementary manifests prepared by masters of vessels reporting through the collectors of customs.

During the month of August transactions at 147 ports of receipt and 213 ports of shipment were reported. The number of vessels arriving in August was 11,017 and the clearances numbered 11,354 vessels. The registered tonnage for the month was as follows: Arrivals, 14,340,035 net tons; clearances, 15,084,831 net tons. This total does not include the tonnage of vessels engaged in trade between the United States and Canada.

SUMMARY OF DOMESTIC LAKE TRAFFIC, AUGUST AND EIGHT MONTHS ENDING AUGUST, 1905-1907.

A summary of the lake traffic for August, compared with the corresponding months in 1905 and 1906, is given in the following table. The various quantities and units of freight are reduced to their equivalents in net tons. August receipts in 1907 at all ports reporting were 11,235,185 net tons, compared with 10,400,004 net tons in August, 1906, and 9,501,759 net tons in August, 1905. The figures of shipments of coal include coal loaded for vessels' fuel consumption.

Flaxseed receipts at lake ports during August, 1907, amounted to 608,714 bushels, all of which was received at Buffalo. There were shipped during August 422,058 bushels. Duluth shipped 390,029 bushels, and Superior-West Superior 32,029 bushels.

During the eight months ending August 6,637,459 bushels were received. Buffalo received 5,453,531 bushels, Chicago-South Chicago 350,928 bushels, Cleveland 296,000 bushels, and Toledo 537,000 bushels. There were shipped 6,378,271 bushels. Duluth shipped 3,792,775 bushels and Superior-West Superior 2,585,496 bushels.

Merchandise transported between United States points, but passing under bond through Canadian territory, is known as "in-transit" movement. That class of tonnage which required the use of the Great Lakes as a link in its journey in August consisted of the following: Receipts at Chicago-South Chicago, 6,323 tons of unclassified freight; Conneaut, 1,625 bushels of oats and 63 tons of unclassified freight; Gladstone, 134 tons of unclassified freight, and Milwaukee, 2,889 tons of unclassified freight. Shipments from Chicago-South Chicago, 200 tons of flour, 184,511 bushels of wheat, 504,093 bushels of corn, and 1,962 tons of unclassified freight; Conneaut, 16 tons of iron manufactures, 245 tons of soft coal, and 500 bushels of oats, and Duluth 27 tons of unclassified freight.

The total "in-transit" movement for August was 16 tons of iron manufactures, 245 tons of soft coal, 200 tons of flour, 184,511 bushels of wheat, 504,093 bushels of corn, 3,125 bushels of oats, and 11,398 tons of unclassified freight.

During August, 1907, there were inspected to vessels at Chicago, as reported by the municipal grain inspector, 5,842,035 bushels of grain, composed of 1,698,217 bushels wheat, 3,921,140 bushels corn, and 222,678 bushels oats. During the season ending August 31, 1907, the total quantity of grain inspected before loading into vessels was 37,391,504 bushels, as compared with 36,144,083 bushels during the same period in 1906.

DOMESTIC RECEIPTS AND SHIPMENTS, AT PRINCIPAL PORTS, OF COMMODITIES TRANSPORTED ON THE GREAT LAKES, AUGUST AND EIGHT MONTHS ENDING AUGUST, 1906 AND 1907.

GRAIN RECEIPTS AT SIX DOMESTIC SEAPORTS.

Below is given a comparative table of receipts of grain, including flour and meal reduced to bushels, at six seaboard markets, during August and eight months ending August, 1905, 1906, and 1907. The figures are derived in every case from the reports of the commercial organizations closely identified with the grain trade at the respective localities. These totals serve to show the relative share of each port in this branch of domestic commerce.

IV.—COASTWISE COMMERCE AT ATLANTIC AND GULF PORTS.

The scope of commercial movements represented in this section usually includes receipts and shipments of merchandise between New York and New England ports, giving the bulk of the water-borne trade of nine of these ports with New York; coal shipments by water from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, and Newport News to seaboard points north and south; coastwise receipts of southern pine and eastern spruce, by cargoes, at New York from sources of origin; and coastwise and foreign shipping movements at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Mobile, Galveston, Port Arthur, and Sabine Pass. Coastwise coal shipments from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport News, and Norfolk are also presented. Coastwise shipments of petroleum from Texas producing territory to Atlantic and Gulf ports are given in Section VIII. Representative freight rates quoted to leading destinations on the eastern and southern coasts are shown in Section IX.

COAL SHIPMENTS BY WATER FROM NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA, BALTIMORE, NEWPORT NEWS, NORFOLK.

Through the courtesy and cooperation of nearly all of the more prominent shippers of coal by water from the middle Atlantic ports of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport News, and Norfolk, to Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific coast ports, the following figures of the coastwise coal movement have been obtained. These statistics cover probably more than 90 per cent of the shipments for the places and periods mentioned, and include both anthracite and bituminous coal. Anthracite coal is shipped principally from New York Harbor wharves. From Philadelphia shipments are primarily bituminous and secondarily anthracite. From Baltimore, Newport News, and Norfolk shipments are almost wholly bituminous. During August vessels were supplied with fuel at these five ports to the amount of 290,558 tons, and during eight months ending August, 2,186,794 tons.

During August 72 collectors of customs report 682,005 gross tons of coal loaded on vessels for fueling purposes on the Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific coasts. Of this total, 174,672 tons were placed on board vessels destined to domestic ports and 507,333 tons on foreign-bound vessels. The total value of this tonnage was reported as being $2,350,417.48, an average of about $3.45 per ton.

V.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS IN SOUTHERN TERRITORY.

The territory covered in this section includes that lying south of the Potomac and Ohio rivers and east of the Mississippi River and that portion west of the Mississippi included in the State of Louisiana, the Indian Territory, and Texas. The characteristic traffic movements are those of cotton, lumber, naval stores, and general commodities.

Cotton-trade reports include the statement of the quantity of the crop brought into sight and its disposition, during successive crop years, to the end of August. Other articles of traffic reported are the grain and rice movements at New Orleans, shipments of yellow pine from the Southwest and from Virginia and the Carolinas to destinations, and river and rail traffic at Louisville, Ky., and Little Rock, Ark. Southern river trade is given in Section VII, southern coastwise shipments under Section IV.

SOUTHERN COTTON MOVEMENT.

According to the practice of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, whose official figures are used, except when otherwise specified, the amount of cotton brought into sight from month to month during the season includes (1) receipts from plantations at ports; (2) receipts at the overland points of crossing on the Mississippi, Ohio, and Potomac rivers for shipment direct to northern and eastern mills, and (3) takings by southern mills. To this must be added (4) stocks left over at the end of the year at ports and interior towns. These four items together give the total commercial supply available for distribution.

VI.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

Traffic operations reported in this territory consist mainly of receipts from productive areas on the Pacific slope at seaboard ports of outlet, of coastwise movements between the upper and the lower Pacific coasts, and of overland shipments to the East. The operations usually reported include receipts and shipments of merchandise at San Francisco; redwood-lumber shipments from upper California; arrivals of redwood, pine, and fir at California coast points; lumber shipments from principal mills reporting in Washington; commerce at the ports of Portland, Seattle, and Tacoma, and the shipments of citrus fruit from southern California.

VII.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS ON RIVERS AND CANALS.

The movements of domestic trade represented under this heading are not confined to any particular geographical division of the country. Operations on some of the leading waterways include those on the Monongahela River between Pittsburg, Pa., and Fairmont, W. Va.; the Ohio River at Davis Island dam, Bellevue, Pa., and at Louisville, Ky., the vessel movement at Cairo, Ill., on the Ohio and the Mississippi rivers; the traffic movements on the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal, connecting the Chesapeake and Delaware bays, and similar movements on various other navigable streams about whose navigation acceptable information is periodically available.

Unless otherwise specified, the data out of which the following tables are constructed are derived from monthly reports received from the engineers in charge of river and harbor improvements under the auspices of the War Department.

The maximum tonnage on the Big Sandy River for August, 1907, was at Lock No. 2, where 10,556 tons of freight passed, of which 1,488 tons were timber and ties and 9,068 tons miscellaneous merchandise.

The maximum tonnage on the Black Warrior River for August, 1907, was at Lock No. 9, where 1,963 tons of freight passed, of which 680 tons were lumber and logs and 1,283 tons were miscellaneous merchandise.

The maximum tonnage on the Cumberland River for August, 1907, was at Lock No. 1, where 1,296 tons of freight passed, of which 178 were lumber and timber, 153 grain, and 965 miscellaneous.

Upstream tonnage on the Kentucky River during August, 1907, was largest at Lock No. 1, where 5,280 tons of freight passed, of which 3,464 tons were coal and 1,816 tons were miscellaneous merchandise. Downstream tonnage at Lock No. 11 aggregated 18,444 tons of miscellaneous freight. The grand total freight passing in both directions at locks of maximum tonnage was 23,724 tons.

Upstream tonnage on the Muskingum River during August, 1907, was largest at Lock No. 8, where 1,524 tons of freight passed, of which 5 tons were coal, 58 tons were lumber, and 1,461 tons miscellaneous merchandise. Downstream tonnage was largest at Lock No. 1, where 5,957 tons of freight passed, of which 300 tons were lumber and 5,657 merchandise. The grand total freight passing in both directions at locks of maximum tonnage was 7,481 tons.

TRAFFIC ON THE MONONGAHELA RIVER.

The iron and steel products passing Lock No. 1 represent practically the entire river traffic of these products. The coal passing downstream through Lock No. 3, plus 66,131 tons mined in the first and second polls during August, makes a total coal traffic of 990,091 tons for the river during August. Of other downstream freight, 23,487 tons of miscellaneous merchandise are to be added, making a total of 1,013,578 net tons in August. Lock No. 3 represents approximately the general aggregate of down-river tonnage.

Of upstream freight, that passing through Lock No. 1 represents approximately the general movement in this direction. The freight passing this point in August amounted to 166,878 tons.

The total freight moved in both directions, on this basis of calculation, was 1,180,456 net tons in August, 1907, as against 917,760 net tons in August, 1906, and 912,728 tons in August, 1905.

For eight months ending with August the total movement was 8,161,878 tons in 1907, 7,557,782 tons in 1906, and 7,418,080 tons in 1905.

VESSEL MOVEMENT ON THE MISSISSIPPI AND OHIO RIVERS VIA CAIRO, ILL.

The following table is compiled from monthly reports received from Cairo, Ill., giving the number and tonnage of vessels passing or having their termini there. The tonnage of boats and barges is estimated tonnage. The tonnage of steamboats is actual.

The total through movement represents vessels passing Cairo to or from points on the Ohio, Mississippi, and other rivers. The local movement at Cairo represents vessels having Cairo as one of their termini. (The monthly reports of arrivals and clearances are made by Mr. George Parsons, trustee of Cairo trust property, who is intimately acquainted with river operations at this point.)

For the eight months ending August 31, 1907, of the vessels reported, 1,264 were loaded with coal; 453 carried lumber, logs, piling, and wood; 37 carried ties; 374 carried merchandise; 15, rock; 3, grain; 1, blocks; 9, brick; 4, sugar; 7, manufactured iron; 6, wheat, and 1 wire.

VIII.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS OF COAL, COKE, AND PETROLEUM—PRODUCTION OF PIG IRON.

The series of tables following present some of the leading traffic operations in domestic coal, coke, and petroleum; also figures of pig-iron production by principal districts. They include shipments of anthracite coal from the anthracite regions, anthracite and bituminous coal and coke traffic originating east of Pittsburg and Erie on the Pennsylvania Railroad system; coal and coke shipments over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, the Norfolk and Western Railroad, the Southern Railway, and other eastern roads, weekly Connellsville coke output and shipments; St. Louis receipts of coal, and receipts and shipments of coal and coke at Chicago. Petroleum statistics are included for the pipe-line territory in the Appalachian, Lima-Indiana, and Midcontinental fields. Statistics of pig-iron production cover the principal producing districts and are exclusive of small quantities of charcoal iron. For coastwise coal trade generally, see Section IV; for Lake trade, Section II.

PRODUCTION AND SHIPMENTS OF CONNELLSVILLE (PA.) COKE.

The following table presents figures of production and shipments of Connellsville coke from Connellsville proper and the so-called "Lower District" as reported in the weekly issues of the Connellsville Courier. The figures represent estimates of the Courier, verified by and combined with the actual tonnage figures of the local railways.

STATEMENT OF PIPE LINES IN APPALACHIAN, LIMA-INDIANA, AND MIDCONTINENT FIELDS.

The following table shows the business of the principal petroleum pipe lines in the Appalachian, Lima-Indiana, and Midcontinent fields. The Appalachian field includes Pennsylvania, New York, West Virginia, southeastern Ohio, Kentucky, and Tennessee. The Lima-Indiana field includes northwestern Ohio, Indiana, and the production in Illinois. The Midcontinent field includes Kansas, Indian Territory, and Oklahoma.

The pipe lines which report no runs from wells receive their oil through other pipe lines. The regular deliveries represent deliveries to refineries and for export, and do not include deliveries to other pipe lines. The runs from wells represent Appalachian oil exclusively in all cases except three, namely: The Buckeye, which receives Appalachian crude from southeastern Ohio and Lima-Indiana crude from northwestern Ohio; the Indiana Pipe Line Company, which receives crude from Indiana and Illinois, and the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, which operates in the Midcontinent field.

Prior to August, 1906, the Buckeye pipe line reported separately its Appalachian crude, and its Lima-Indiana crude was reported jointly with that of the Indiana pipe line. Also, prior to this date, the pipe lines distinguished deliveries and net stocks of Appalachian oil from those of Lima-Indiana oil, but at present the deliveries and stocks of several of the companies reported in the following table include both kinds of crude oil.

Net stocks, often called liabilities, represent the amount of oil for which the pipe lines have receipted to producers and which they are liable for. In addition, the pipe lines hold a certain amount of sediment and surplus oil which, combined with net stocks, constitute gross stocks.

XI.—CHANGES IN RAILROAD FREIGHT RATES.

Changes in railroad freight rates are obtained through the the courtesy of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the auditor of that body transmitting them on the latest date which will permit of their insertion in the Summary. In this manner their publication is assured as soon after their receipt as possible, and as a rule they cover a period nearly a month later than that represented by other statements throughout this report.

The matter of deciding what changes shall be considered of enough importance to be presented is left entirely to the discretion of the Commission, all tables which they submit being published without reservation of any kind. This, however, must not be taken to indicate that all important changes are included, as such a presentation would be a practical impossibility, owing to the great number of tariffs to be examined and the short time in which to procure the rates therefrom.

<sup>a</sup> The sovereign is the standard coin of India ($0.3244), but the rupee is the money of account, current at 15 to the sovereign.

<sup>e</sup> The British dollar has the same value as the Mexican dollar in Hongkong and Labuan.

NOTE.—The coins of silver-standard countries are valued by their pure silver contents at the average market price of silver for the three months preceding the dates of this table.

OF
OF THE
UNITED STATES

SEPTEMBER, 1907

WASHINGTON

EXPLANATIONS OF REGULAR STATISTICAL TABLES.

General imports.—The regular statement of imports of merchandise, by articles and countries, in this publication is what is termed the statement of general imports, embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse, as distinguished from special imports, which embrace imports entered for immediate consumption and withdrawals from warehouse for consumption.

The statement of general imports and the statement of imports entered for consumption for any period will differ to the extent that the value of entries for warehouse for the period differs from the value of withdrawals from warehouse for consumption. The term "entry for consumption" is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties have been paid on the dutiable portion.

The values of articles imported since August 1, 1890, are governed by the provisions of section 19 of the act of June 10, 1890, which prescribes that the values of imported merchandise subject to ad valorem rates of duty shall be "the actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation to the United States in the principal markets of the country from whence imported and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation to the United States or consigned to the United States for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment to the United States."

Domestic exports.—The regular statement of domestic exports, by articles and countries, in this publication exhibits the exports of domestic products or manufactures, also exports of commodities of foreign origin which have been changed from the form in which they were imported or enhanced in value by further manufacture in the United States, such as sugar refined in this country from imported raw sugar, flour ground from imported wheat, and articles, utensils, etc., made from imported materials. The value of exports of domestic merchandise is their value at the time of exportation in the ports of the United States whence they are exported.

Foreign exports.—The regular statement of foreign exports, by articles, in this publication, sometimes called "reexports," exhibits exports of foreign merchandise which had been imported. The value of such commodities exported "from warehouse" is their import value; the value of such commodities exported "not from warehouse," comprising free goods mainly, is the value at the ports of the United States whence they are exported.

Warehoused merchandise.—The regular statement of articles remaining in warehouse in this publication exhibits imported merchandise in bonded warehouses. This merchandise has already appeared in the statement of general imports. The official values of the articles therein represented are the same as the import values.

Tonnage tables.—In the tables of tonnage movement in American foreign trade the tonnage is stated in net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying space after the prescribed allowances are made for crew space, engine space, etc.

Weights.—In all tables published by the Bureau the ton weight is 2,240 pounds and the hundredweight is 112 pounds, unless indicated otherwise.

Customs districts.—Statements of imports, exports, and tonnage movement are shown by customs districts, which have a certain prescribed limit of territory with a port of entry. The customs districts having the port of entry with name different from that of the customs district are the following:

DISTRICT.	Port of entry.	DISTRICT.	Port of entry.	DISTRICT.	Port of entry.

COMMERCE OF PORTO RICO.
COMMERCE OF THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

COMMERCE OF GUAM, MIDWAY ISLANDS, AND TUTUILA.
RECAPITULATION OF COMMERCE OF NONCONTIGUOUS TERRITORIES.
TONNAGE MOVEMENT IN THE TRADE OF THE UNITED STATES WITH ITS NONCONTIGUOUS TERRITORIES.

COMMERCE BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND ITS NONCONTIGUOUS TERRITORIES AND BETWEEN SAID TERRITORIES AND FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

The following tables show the commerce of the noncontiguous territories of the United States with the United States and with foreign countries for comparative periods of time. Customs collectors were not required prior to the act of April 29, 1902, to furnish statements of shipments of merchandise between the United States and its noncontiguous possessions.

Hawaii was annexed to the United States by act of Congress of July 7, 1898, and was made a Territory and customs district by act of April 30, 1900, which took effect June 14, 1900.

Porto Rico was taken possession of by the United States October 18, 1898, and was given a civil government and made a customs district by act of April 12, 1900, to take effect May 1, 1900.

The figures of the commerce between the Philippine Islands and the United States, while at present included in the general tables of foreign commerce of the United States, are also presented herewith in conjunction with the other tables of this group.

INTERNAL COMMERCE OF THE UNITED STATES.

MORRIS JACOBSON, Internal Commerce Expert.

SEPTEMBER SUMMARY OF INTERNAL TRADE MOVEMENTS.

The Summary of Internal Commerce for September, 1907, includes tables exhibiting the comparative progress of trade movements in different parts of the United States for the month and nine months of the current and two or more preceding years. These statistics are gathered partly through the cooperation of commercial organizations and transportation companies, partly by compilation from authoritative trade publications, and to an increasing extent from official reports made by this and other departments of the public service. Statistics of domestic commerce on the Great Lakes, unless otherwise credited, are compiled from supplementary manifests prepared by masters of vessels reporting through the collectors of customs.

The tables which appear in this issue represent six different geographical sections, as follows: I. Commercial movements at interior centers; II. Coastwise commerce on the Great Lakes; III. Commercial movements at the North Atlantic seaboard; IV. Coastwise commerce at Atlantic and Gulf ports; V. Commercial movements in southern territory; and VI. Commercial movements on the Pacific coast. Other tables representing no particular geographical sections are: VII. Commercial movements on rivers and canals; VIII. Commercial movements of coal, coke, petroleum, and pig-iron production; IX. Freight rates on the Great Lakes; X. Ocean freight rates; and XI. Changes in rail freight rates.

I.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS AT INTERIOR CENTERS.

Receipts of live stock at seven interior primary markets during September aggregated 3,805,654 head, a quantity considerably in excess of the corresponding figures for September, 1906, 3,380,282 head, and September, 1905, 3,682,135 head. As compared with the 1906 figures all markets show substantial gains in receipts, the increases being especially heavy in the cases of Kansas City and Omaha; larger receipts are noted for all classes of animals with the exception of horses and mules. Thus the receipts of cattle for the month numbered 1,146,663 head, compared with 943,974 head received during September, 1906; those of calves were 106,585 head, compared with 75,835 head; those of hogs, 1,236,043 head, compared with 1,111,295 head; those of sheep, 1,273,746 head, compared with 1,206,381 head, while receipts of horses and mules were 42,617 in number, compared with 42,797 received during September, 1906. Receipts of live stock for the nine months of the year at the seven cities considered, 30,301,186 head, are likewise in excess of the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 29,749,280 and 28,957,686 head, Chicago and St. Paul being the only two markets showing smaller receipts for the season as compared with the preceding year's figures. In the case of Chicago the loss in the season's receipts is due to decreases in the receipts of hogs, sheep, horses, and mules, while in the case of St. Paul the smaller receipts of hogs and sheep are responsible for the decreased total for the season. The number of cars used in handling the inbound movement for the season was 572,146, compared with 544,881 for the nine months of 1906 and 525,178 for the corresponding period of 1905.

Stocks of meat at the close of September at five principal markets, 246,320,889 pounds, while being more than 42,000,000 pounds below like figures for the preceding month, are, however, considerably larger than the corresponding September figures in 1906 and 1905 of 182,095,622 and 172,537,633 pounds, respectively. Of the total stocks held, Chicago is credited with 42 per cent, Kansas City 18 per cent, Omaha 16 per cent, St. Joseph 16 per cent, and Milwaukee with 8 per cent.

Shipments of packing-house products from Chicago during September, 206,762,562 pounds, are slightly below the corresponding 1906 figures of 213,669,404 pounds, though almost 25 million pounds below the September 1905 shipments. As compared with the figures for September, 1906, the main decrease is shown in the shipments of fresh beef, 74,385,856 pounds, compared with 91,114,985 pounds, while slight losses are shown in the shipments of lard, tallow, and stearin. The largest gains are shown in the shipments of cured meats, 68,134,835 pounds, compared with 58,636,743 pounds; canned meats, 8,972,475 pounds, compared with 8,167,425 pounds; pickled beef, 4,033,600 pounds, compared with 2,265,000 pounds; shipments of dressed hogs, hides, and pork also show substantial increases. Shipments for the nine months of the year, 1,837,780,089 pounds, are below the 1906 and 1905 figures of 2,124,176,602 pounds and 1,911,168,730 pounds, respectively, decreases as compared with the 1906 totals occurring under the heads of practically all important items. The principal losses are shown in the shipments of fresh beef, 693,451,047 pounds, compared with 856,659,027 pounds shipped during the 1906 season; cured meats, 566,995,763 pounds, compared with 626,588,729 pounds; canned meats, 59,391,825 pounds, compared with 94,608,375 pounds, the shipments of this article showing the largest relative decrease; lard, 301,189,008 pounds, compared with 318,119,993 pounds; pickled beef, 35,744,100 pounds, compared with 40,420,700 pounds; and pork, 22,260,400 pounds, compared with 27,443,800 pounds shipped during the nine months of 1906.

Grain receipts during September at fourteen interior primary markets, 96,039,864 bushels, are over 22 per cent larger than the September, 1906, receipts and nearly 5 per cent in excess of the September, 1905, figures. Larger receipts are reported for Chicago, which is credited with 33,367,440 bushels, compared with 25,459,800 bushels received during September, 1906; Minneapolis, 13,501,930 bushels, compared with 10,866,840 bushels; St. Louis, 9,498,589 bushels, compared with 5,945,953 bushels, and Kansas City, 7,996,000 bushels, compared with 6,018,500 bushels, substantial gains in receipts being reported also for the smaller markets of Omaha, Peoria, Cincinnati, and Louisville. Duluth is the only large market reporting smaller grain receipts for the month than a year ago, the respective figures being 7,689,847 and 10,210,596 bushels. Of the smaller markets Toledo, Cleveland, and Detroit also report losses as compared with September, 1906, receipts. Of the total grain receipts for the month 26,011,163 bushels constituted wheat, 26,631,038 bushels corn, 29,728,621 bushels oats, 12,387,306 bushels barley, and 1,281,736 bushels rye. The corresponding 1906 figures were: Wheat, 26,590,214 bushels; corn, 21,844,061 bushels; oats, 21,969,040 bushels; barley, 738,717 bushels; and rye, 788,033 bushels. Grain shipments during the month, 57,597,373 bushels, compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures, 47,573,524 and 53,827,640 bushels, larger shipments being shown for all classes of grain and for all the principal markets except Duluth.

Wheat receipts at four leading spring wheat markets since August 1 aggregated 26,996,761 bushels, compared with 29,091,943 and 31,374,764 bushels received at these markets during the 1906 and 1905 seasons. As compared with 1906 returns, Chicago and Milwaukee show larger receipts, while Minneapolis and Duluth show smaller receipts. Receipts at four leading winter wheat markets since July 1, 26,199,712 bushels, are also smaller than the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 28,554,619 and 32,283,965 bushels, Toledo and St. Louis showing larger receipts, while Kansas City and Detroit show smaller totals than a year ago.

Eastward trunk-line movements of provisions from Chicago and Chicago junction points during four weeks in September totaled 97,492 tons, being below the corresponding 1906 figures of 100,941 tons and the 1905 figures of 118,631 tons. Totals for thirty-nine weeks of the season, 884,615 tons, show even heavier decreases as compared with the 1906 and 1905 figures of 1,054,967 and 1,033,466 tons, respectively. Like movements of grain during four weeks in September, 9,730,000 bushels, on the other hand, show a considerable gain over the figures for September, 1906, 6,236,000 bushels, and 1905, 5,743,000 bushels, while the season figures, 95,026,000 bushels, likewise show substantial increases over the 1906 figures of 85,699,000 bushels and the 1905 season movement, 74,852,000 bushels. The flour movement for the four weeks under consideration, 426,742 barrels, was also considerably heavier than the like movement during September, 1905 and 1906, 326,573 barrels and 287,092 barrels, respectively, while the season figures, 4,480,540 barrels, show an increase of 6 per cent over the corresponding 1906 figures and of 27 per cent over the 1905 figures.

Shipments of grain by rail from Buffalo elevators during September, 7,305,000 bushels, show a considerable improvement both as compared with the figures for the preceding month, 5,833,000 bushels, as well as the September, 1906, figures, 4,589,000, the larger total being due chiefly to the increased shipments of wheat and corn. September shipments of grain by canal, 1,991,876 bushels, on the other hand, show smaller totals than the September, 1906 and 1905, shipments by the same route, 2,680,881 and 2,420,376 bushels, respectively. Of the total season shipments of grain from Buffalo elevators 50,173,000 bushels are credited to rail carriers and 11,063,631 bushels to the canal route. The rail shipments show an increase of 36 per cent and 18 per cent, as compared with the 1906 and 1905 figures, while the shipments by canal are 15 per cent below the corresponding 1906 shipments, though 47 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1905 shipments. The large increase of eastward wheat shipments disclosed by the season figures corresponds to the growth of wheat exports from Baltimore, New York, and Philadelphia for the late months. Oats shipments for the season, both by rail and canal, were considerably below the 1906 shipments, the bulk of these shipments being for eastern consumption, leaving but a small surplus available for export.

II.—DOMESTIC COMMERCE ON THE GREAT LAKES.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 541.]

Traffic movements on the Great Lakes during September, as measured by the volume of shipments from the various lake ports, aggregated 11,342,565 net tons, compared with 12,597,866 net tons reported for the preceding month and 10,807,772 net tons shipped during September, 1906. As compared with the September, 1906, figures, the shipments of coal, ore, and minerals show an increase, while the shipments of grain (including flaxseed), flour, lumber, and unclassified merchandise were lower than a year ago. Shipments for the nine months of the year, 61,784,212 net tons, are 27 per cent and 21 per cent, respectively, in excess of the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures, the increase in the total being likewise due mainly to heavier shipments of coal, ore, and minerals. The domestic iron ore shipments from Lake Superior and Michigan ports totaled 6,166,147 gross tons, or 11 per cent less than a month ago, though 7 per cent more than during September of 1906. Iron ore shipments for the nine months of the year, 30,632,378 gross tons, compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 shipments of 27,703,655 gross tons, all of the large shipping points, with the exception of Two Harbors, showing larger shipments as compared with those of the preceding year.

Shipments of soft coal for the month, mainly from Lake Erie ports to the head of the Lakes and Milwaukee, 1,843,942 net tons, are below the August figures, though 12 per cent in excess of the September, 1906, figures. Shipments for nine months of the year, 11,642,151 net tons, are about 27 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures. These totals do not include, however, the quantities of bunker coal placed aboard vessels engaged in both domestic and foreign commerce on the Great Lakes. Reports from masters of vessels engaged in domestic commerce show the quantity of the bunker coal loaded during the month of September as 263,363 net tons, as compared with 251,779 net tons reported for September, 1906, while the quantity of bunker coal loaded on vessels engaged in domestic commerce for the nine months of the year is reported as 1,489,450 net tons, compared with 1,429,227 reported for the corresponding 1906 period. Shipments of hard coal, mainly from Buffalo and Erie, were 535,690 net tons for the month, compared with 417,263 net tons reported for September, 1906, and 2,845,246 net tons for the nine months of the year, compared with 2,056,353 net tons reported during the corresponding 1906 period.

Wheat shipments for the month, mainly from Duluth, Superior, and Chicago, 7,185,162 bushels, are considerably in excess of the preceding month's total, as well as the September, 1906, figures of 5,878,985 bushels. The total for the season, 32,101,873 bushels, is about 47 per cent larger than the corresponding 1906 total. The shipments of oats for the month, 824,674 bushels, are about 1 million and those for the nine months nearly 10 million bushels below the corresponding 1906 figures. A considerable decline is also shown in the lake movement of barley, while the corn shipments, mainly from Chicago, though lower for the month than a year ago, show a larger total for the season than during 1906—35,770,712, compared with 34,680,474, bushels.

Lumber shipments for the month, 174,396,000 feet, of which almost 28 per cent are credited to Duluth, are 22 per cent below the September, 1906, shipments and a similar decline, as compared with the corresponding 1906 figures, is noted in the shipments for the nine months. The larger receiving ports, such as Chicago, North Tonawanda, Ludington, and Cleveland, all report correspondingly smaller arrivals.

The shipments of copper, mainly from upper Michigan ports, 10,724 gross tons, compare favorably with the September, 1906, figures, though the nine months' total, 66,372 gross tons, is almost 22 per cent below the corresponding 1906 total.

The movement of package freight for the month, 756,423 net tons, was considerably lower than during August, and even below the September, 1906, movement. The season figures, 5,034,433 net tons, show an increase of over 19 per cent over the corresponding 1906 total.

Figures of coastwise arrivals at lake ports during September, 9,388 vessels, of 13,039,733 net tons register, indicate a lighter shipping movement than during August, due in part to the shorter month and the less favorable weather prevailing, but in part also to the lighter traffic carried. Vessel arrivals for the nine months were 56,329 in number, representing 73,429,950 net registered tons, compared with 57,404 vessels of 69,701,755 tons reported for the 1906 season. A comparison of these figures brings out the interesting fact that the average size of lake vessel reported during the nine months increased by 7.4 per cent, from 1,214 in 1906 to 1,304 net tons in the current year. Of the total arrivals during the season, Duluth is credited with 2,508 vessels, of 6,534,895 net tons; Chicago with 5,136 vessels, of 5,891,125 net tons; Milwaukee with 4,089 vessels, of 5,395,131 net tons; Cleveland with 2,894 vessels, of 4,736,666 net tons; Superior with 1,850 vessels, of 4,731,385 net tons, and Buffalo with 2,286 vessels, of 4,698,922 net tons. Nearly 33 per cent of the total vessel arrivals during the season is credited to these six ports.

Freight traffic through the canals at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and Ontario, Canada, during September aggregated 8,532,706 net tons, being slightly below the preceding month's total of 8,544,833 net tons, though largely in excess of the September, 1906 and 1905, traffic of 7,250,159 and 5,782,944 net tons. Of the total traffic for the month, 6,953,009 net tons represented an eastbound and 1,579,697 net tons a westbound movement. The eastward iron-ore movement, 6,397,783 net tons, showed the largest monthly total for the season and is 22 per cent in excess of the September, 1906, and 53 per cent larger than the September, 1905, total. Other important items of the eastbound movement were 7,722,820 bushels of wheat, 2,368,803 bushels of other grains, 832,370 barrels of flour, and 89,879,000 feet of lumber. Of the total westbound traffic for the month, 1,224,167 net tons is represented by soft coal, 198,866 net tons by hard coal, and 106,386 net tons by miscellaneous merchandise. The total quantity of iron ore reported to have passed through the canals during the present season aggregated 28,883,106 net tons compared with 26,495,982 net tons for the 1906 season and 23,788,994 net tons for the 1905 season, while the corresponding figures of the soft-coal movement were 7,553,120 net tons for the present season compared with 5,422,914 net tons for the 1906 season and 4,196,459 net tons for the 1905 season. A large increase is also shown by the wheat movement, 56,153,551 bushels, or 46 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures and 162 per cent in excess of the 1905 figures. The movement during the season of other grains, 25,802,188 bushels, while 49 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1905 figures, is, however, 19 per cent below the corresponding 1906 movement. The total number of vessel passages for the month, 2,922, is but slightly in excess of the corresponding 1906 and 1905 totals of 2,912 and 2,767, though the tonnage of the vessels locked through the canals, 6,486,133 net tons, is 15 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 total and 38 per cent in excess of the 1905 total. The total freight tonnage passing through the canals during the current season, 42,059,094 net tons, compares favorably with the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 37,204,437 and 31,947,743 net tons, while corresponding figures of vessel movements are 15,100 passages, comprising 31,641,848 net tons register for the current season compared with 16,603 vessels of 29,723,337 net tons register and 15,844 vessels of 26,410,831 net tons register reported for the 1906 and 1905 seasons. Notwithstanding the smaller number of vessel passages for the season the total tonnage of vessels using the canals shows a considerable increase, indicating a corresponding growth in the average size of the vessels plying between Lake Superior and the lower lakes.

Domestic freight traffic through the Detroit River during September aggregated 9,252,207 net tons compared with 9,251,220 net tons reported for September, 1906, and 10,583,878 net tons for August, 1907. Of the total freight tonnage, 6,741,007 net tons represented a southbound and 2,511,200 a northbound movement. Of the former movement 79 per cent is represented by iron ore, while other important items of this movement were wheat, 6,270,098 bushels; corn, 4,273,623 bushels; oats, 454,808 bushels; barley, 778,457 bushels; flour, 136,781 net tons; and lumber, 81,111,000 feet. With the exception of wheat, the grain figures for the month all show considerable decreases, as compared with the totals for September, 1906. Of the northbound movement for the month, about 91 per cent, viz, 1,750,757 net tons, was represented by soft coal and 532,402 net tons by hard coal, the rest of the movement being composed of iron manufactures, lumber, and unclassified freight. Figures of freight traffic for the seven months of the season ending September were 49,526,478 net tons, compared with 44,125,782 net tons reported for the corresponding 1906 period. Of the total traffic for the season 34,357,275 net tons represented a southbound and 15,169,203 a northbound movement. The movement of iron ore which is reported to have passed through the river during the seven months of navigation aggregated 26,494,935 gross tons compared with 24,289,852 reported for the corresponding 1906 period, while the soft-coal movement for the same period was 10,970,885 net tons compared with 8,483,861 net tons during 1906. The total vessel movement through the river during the month aggregated 3,234 vessels of 6,688,620 net tons register, compared with 3,435 vessels of 6,619,540 net tons register reported for September, 1906. The total number of vessel passages for the current season, 17,973, representing a tonnage of 35,978,182 net tons, shows a slight increase in number and a 2½-million increase in tonnage as compared with the corresponding 1906 total.

III.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS AT THE NORTH ATLANTIC SEABOARD.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 552.]

Live-stock receipts at Boston for the month of September were 169,747 head, as compared with 146,406 head received during September, 1906. The largest increase in receipts for the month is shown by hogs, the respective figures being 103,215 head received during September of the current year, and 79,915 received during September, 1906; receipts of calves and cattle also show larger totals, while the number of sheep is smaller for the month than a year ago. Figures for the nine months, 1,335,639 head, are slightly below the corresponding 1906 figures of 1,379,271 head, the smaller receipts of hogs, 838,199, as against 885,352 received during the corresponding 1906 period, being chiefly responsible for the smaller total.

New York receipts of live stock for the four weeks ending October 1, 367,694, are about 17 per cent in excess of the September, 1906, total, increased receipts being shown in the cases of all animals, principally sheep. Figures for thirty-nine weeks of the year, 3,229,429 head, show a slight increase over the corresponding 1906 figures of 3,135,034 head, increases being shown in the cases of hogs, calves, and cattle, while the number of sheep received during the season is about 43,000 head less than the corresponding number in 1906.

Receipts at Philadelphia of hogs, cattle, and sheep for the four weeks ending September 29, 65,862 head, were over 3,000 head in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures, small increases being shown for all the three classes of animals considered. Figures for thirty-nine weeks of the year, 545,863 head, are slightly below the corresponding 1906 figures of 554,474 head, the decrease being due to smaller receipts of sheep during the current season.

Baltimore reports 149,178 head of live stock received for the month of September, compared with 99,883 received during September, 1906, large increases being shown in the receipts of hogs and sheep. Figures for the nine months of the current year, 1,117,267 head, are over 14 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures, the increase being quite evenly distributed among the various classes of animals.

Receipts of grain and grain products at Boston during the month—2,819,665 bushels (including the grain equivalent of flour and meal)—were about 18 per cent in excess of the September, 1906, totals, though almost 800,000 bushels below the corresponding 1905 total. Receipts of both wheat and flour show increases as compared with 1906 and 1905 figures. The receipts of corn and oats, while larger than the corresponding 1906 figures, are, however, considerably below the September, 1905, figures, and account for the loss in total receipts as compared with the 1905 total. Receipts for the nine months of the year, 27,000,794 bushels, are about a million bushels in excess of the 1906 season receipts, and about 24 per cent larger than the 1905 season receipts, gains as compared with last year's figures being shown in the receipts of wheat, corn, and flour, while the receipts of oats and oatmeal are below the corresponding 1906 figures.

Receipts of grain and grain products at New York during the month aggregated 9,791,279 bushels, compared with 9,946,117 and 12,921,190 bushels received during September, 1906 and 1905. Of the total receipts, wheat constituted 3,748,721 bushels, corn, 299,925 bushels, oats, 2,882,600 bushels, and flour a wheat equivalent of 2,205,027 bushels. The loss in the total receipts as compared with the September, 1906, total is due to the decrease, by about one million bushels, in the receipts of corn and a decline by about 51,000 barrels in the arrivals of flour, which loss was but partially compensated by heavier receipts of wheat and oats. Of the total receipts for the month, about 63 per cent appears to have arrived by all-rail routes, about 31 per cent by the lake-and-rail route, and less than 6 per cent by the canal route; the unusually small arrivals by canal are probably due to the unsatisfactory condition of the Erie Canal, which did not permit the free navigation of through traffic. Total grain receipts for the nine months of the year—87,512,298 bushels—compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 84,661,152 and 80,742,633 bushels, respectively, the principal grains, with the exception of oats and barley, showing larger figures for the year as compared with the corresponding 1906 totals. Of the total receipts for the season, 64 per cent are credited to all-rail routes, 29 per cent to lake-and-rail routes, 6 per cent to the canal route, and the remainder to river and coast. Of the 19,787,121 bushels of wheat received during the season, 32 per cent arrived by all-rail routes, 51 per cent by lake-and-rail routes, and 17 per cent by the canal route. The distribution of the 19,647,350 bushels of corn received during the season shows the following percentages: Sixty-seven per cent by all-rail routes, 32 per cent by lake-and-rail routes, and less than 1 per cent by canal routes. Of the 19,774,200 bushels of oats received during the nine months, 80 per cent are credited to all-rail routes, 12 per cent to the lake-and-rail routes, and 8 per cent to the canal route. About 74 per cent of the 4,738,235 barrels of flour arrived by all-rail routes and 25 per cent by lake-and-rail routes.

Grain and flour receipts at Philadelphia for the month—4,204,706 bushels—while below the August figures, show a considerable increase over the corresponding 1906 and 1905 September figures of 3,603,923 and 3,807,793 bushels, the principal gains appearing under the heads of wheat and flour. Figures for the nine months of the year—35,591,266 bushels—are about five million bushels in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures and 79 per cent larger than the unusually small receipts for the nine months in 1905. As compared with the preceding year's figures, large gains are shown in the receipts of wheat and flour; the receipts of corn show lower figures, while the receipts of oats are only a little over one-half the corresponding 1906 figures.

Receipts of flour and grain at Baltimore for the month—3,499,434 bushels—are also below the preceding month's figures, though about 250,000 bushels in excess of the September 1906 total, larger receipts as compared with last year's figures being due almost altogether to heavier receipts of wheat, the other principal grains and flour showing smaller figures for the month as compared with the September 1906 returns. The receipts for the nine months of the year—37,758,243 bushels—are 4 per cent below the corresponding 1906 receipts, losses appearing under the heads of the principal grains, mainly oats, the only substantial increase being shown in the receipts of flour.

IV.—COASTWISE COMMERCE AT ATLANTIC AND GULF PORTS.

Coastwise receipts of southern pine at New York during the month ending September 25—41,691,146 feet—are in excess of the preceding month's figures of 38,303,192 feet, as well as the September 1906 figures—33,716,975 feet—though the receipts for nine months of the year—332,158,074 feet—are 17 per cent below the 1906 season receipts. The gradual shifting of the sources of supply is seen from the change in the relative importance of the various southern shipping ports. Thus Jacksonville is credited with shipments for the season of 69,546,621 feet, compared with 81,713,267 feet shipped during the 1906 season; Savannah with 59,390,993 feet, compared with 64,802,800 feet during 1906; Georgetown, S. C., with 44,486,837 feet, as against 49,381,920 feet in 1906; Brunswick, Ga., with 34,763,961 feet, as against 31,607,450 feet; Charleston, S. C., with 34,069,087, compared with 38,543,806 feet; Wilmington, N. C., 23,123,488, compared with 17,252,927 feet shipped during the preceding season. These six ports are credited with 80 per cent of the total quantity of southern pine received at New York during the current season as compared with 70 per cent for the 1906 season. Of the total quantity received during the nine months, about 49 per cent was carried by steamers while the rest was brought to port in sailing vessels.

Coastwise arrivals at Boston during September aggregated 802 vessels of 886,689 gross tons, compared with 775 vessels of 833,686 gross tons reported for September, 1906. Of the total arrivals for the month, 496 vessels of 625,119 tons are credited to southern ports and 306 vessels of 261,570 tons to eastern ports. Of the total arrivals 211 were steamers, comprising 498,172 tons or over 56 per cent of the total coastwise tonnage entered; 138 vessels of 95,426 tons were schooners, while the remainder of the movement was composed of tugs and barges engaged in local traffic mainly. The total coastwise arrivals for the nine months of the year, 7,437 vessels of 7,729,376 gross tons, compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 figures of 6,535 vessels of 6,890,515 gross tons. Of the total arrivals for the season, 4,845 vessels of 5,558,713 gross tons are credited to southern ports and 2,592 vessels of 2,170,663 gross tons to eastern ports. Foreign arrivals for the month totaled 163 vessels of 301,832 net tons, while like arrivals for the nine months comprised 1,151 vessels of 2,260,904 net tons, compared with 1,229 vessels of 2,312,862 net tons reported for the preceding season.

Arrivals in the coastwise trade at New York for the month comprised 583 vessels, of which total 302 reported from eastern ports and 281 from southern ports. The total number was composed of 236 steamers, 343 schooners, and 4 barks. Corresponding 1906 figures were 659 coastwise arrivals, of which 381 are credited to eastern and 278 to southern ports. Coastwise arrivals for the nine months of the year included 4,811 vessels, of which 2,573 were credited to southern ports, compared with 5,416 vessels reporting during the preceding season, of which total 2,800 vessels were credited to southern ports. Arrivals in the foreign trade for the nine months of the year comprised 3,567 vessels (of which 3,033 were of foreign nationality), compared with 3,441 foreign arrivals for the 1906 season, of which latter total 2,869 were of foreign register. The total number of American vessels arrived in the coastwise trade at Philadelphia during the month is given as 421, compared with 344 reported for September, 1906, while the number of vessels arrived in the foreign trade was 128 during each of the two months. Of the total foreign vessel arrivals for the month, 112 were foreign vessels, as compared with 119 such vessels reported during September, 1906. Arrivals in the coastwise trade for the nine months of the year numbered 3,357 vessels, compared with 3,186 for the corresponding 1906 period, while arrivals in the foreign trade for the current season comprise 1,162 vessels, compared with 1,064 reported a year ago.

Total vessel arrivals at Mobile during the month comprise 71 vessels of 60,868 tons, compared with 86 vessels of 92,173 tons reported during September, 1906. The total movement for the month comprised 55 steamers of 54,100 tons, of which 46 of 41,263 tons arrived in the foreign trade and 9 of 12,837 tons coastwise, besides 16 sailing vessels of 6,768 tons. Total arrivals for the nine months of the year comprise 778 vessels of 659,164 tons, of which 538 vessels of 546,693 tons were steamers and 240 of 112,471 tons were sailing vessels, the corresponding 1906 figures—771 vessels of 676,513 tons—were composed of 566 steamers of 572,540 tons and 205 sailing vessels of 103,973 tons.

V.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS IN SOUTHERN TERRITORY.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 558.]

Sight receipts of cotton during September, the first month of the new crop year, aggregated 841,329 bales, compared with 994,528 bales and 1,315,001 bales received during September, 1906 and 1905. While the per cent of decrease as compared with the corresponding figures of the preceding year, about 16 per cent, is smaller than the per cent of decrease indicated by the United States Census report in the quantity of cotton ginned from the growth of 1907 to September 25, as compared with the previous year's figures, the inference seems justified that the 1907 cotton crop will turn out considerably smaller than either of its two predecessors. Almost 70 per cent of the total receipts—viz, 582,835 bales—are credited to Atlantic and Gulf ports, the corresponding figures for the two earlier years being 722,842 bales for September, 1906, and 982,863 bales for September, 1905. Savannah, Ga., with 201,093 bales; Galveston, Tex., 194,266; Norfolk, Va., 60,896, and New Orleans with 41,903 bales, are credited in the aggregate with over 85 per cent of the total port receipts. Receipts at 29 leading interior markets during the first four weeks of the current crop year, 335,926 bales, are about 35 per cent below the corresponding 1906 figures and less than half the 1905 receipts. Exports for the month are stated as 376,161 bales, compared with 430,111 and 535,838 bales for September, 1906 and 1905, while the takings of domestic spinners, both North and South, are given as 275,396 bales, compared with 280,762 bales during September, 1906, and 314,041 bales during September, 1905.

Of the total takings, 77,968 bales, or 28 per cent, are credited to northern spinners, this share being 32 per cent for September, 1906, and 38 per cent for September, 1905. Inversely the southern mills are credited with 197,428 bales, a quantity both absolutely and relatively larger than the September, 1906 and 1905, takings. The total American stocks at the end of the month aggregated 537,778 bales, compared with 581,425 and 909,653 bales reported on the same date in 1906 and 1905.

Receipts of rough rice at New Orleans for the first two months the current season, 426,960 sacks, compare favorably with like receipts during 1906 and 1905 seasons, 307,440 and 309,805 sacks, respectively, while shipments of clean rice for the same period, 293,704 pockets, show a slight decrease as compared with the corresponding 1906 shipments of 304,253 pockets, though being about 40,000 pockets in excess of like figures for the 1905 season.

August shipments of yellow pine from eight Southern and Southwestern States are given as 349,472,716 feet, compared with 332,317,784 feet shipped during August, 1906, and 302,785,024 feet shipped during August, 1905. Figures for the eight months of the year, 2,655,640,325 feet, are over 12 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 and about 18 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1905 figures. While the bulk of the movement reported is of local character, considerable quantities appear to have been shipped to Central and Northwestern States outside the reporting territory. Thus Illinois is credited with 309,000,396 feet received during the eight months of the year, as compared with 242,162,762 feet received during the corresponding 1906 period; Kansas with 158,602,173 feet, compared with 142,957,591 feet; Indiana with 128,514,275 feet, compared with 110,859,968 feet, and Ohio with 104,732,430 feet, compared with 92,195,452 feet received during the 1906 season. The number of cars required to handle this movement was 159,650 during the eight months of the current year, compared with 134,719 cars required during the corresponding 1906 period.

Receipts of spirits of turpentine at Savannah, Ga., since April 1 are stated as 128,929 barrels, compared with 132,523 and 136,634 barrels for the 1906 and 1905 seasons; shipments for the same period are given as 105,896 barrels, as compared with 118,138 and 123,977 barrels shipped during the corresponding 1906 and 1905 periods. Of the total shipments for the season, 48,261 barrels were destined to domestic ports, while 57,635 barrels were reported as exports. The amount of stock on hand at the end of the month, 29,492 barrels, is considerably in excess of the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures of 16,027 and 18,057 barrels, respectively. The receipts of rosin at the same market, 367,833 barrels, show but slight differences compared with the 1906 and 1905 receipts. The shipments, 324,856 barrels, of which 138,609 barrels were exports, are smaller than the 1906 and 1905 figures, leaving a much larger stock on hand at the end of the month than on corresponding dates in 1906 and 1905, 85,393 barrels, compared with 70,313 and 42,671 barrels, respectively.

VI.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

Shipments of redwood lumber from upper California during September aggregated 31,863,626 feet, compared with 40,335,898 feet and 27,125,965 feet shipped during September 1906 and 1905. Of the total shipments for the month, 18,469,891 feet are credited to Humboldt and Del Norte counties and 13,393,735 feet to Mendocino county. About 72 per cent of the total shipments, viz, 23,094,177 feet were destined to San Francisco Bay, about 24 per cent to southern California, and the rest to miscellaneous, including foreign, ports. The total shipments for the nine months of the year, 328,633,226 feet, are about 21 per cent in excess of the 1906 figures and 30 per cent in excess of the 1905 figures, increased shipments to San Francisco Bay being mainly responsible for the larger total. Arrivals of pine and fir at California points during the month, 83,556,776 feet, were lower than during the preceding month, as well as during September, 1906, though the figures for the season, 1,039,491,681, compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 and 1905 figures—802,522,983 and 738,583,150 feet.

Shipments of citrus fruit from southern California during September aggregated 289 cars compared with 329, and 371 cars shipped during September, 1906 and 1905. Shipments for the eleven months of the season, 27,276 cars, of which 23,944 were oranges and 3,332 cars lemons, compare favorably with the 1905-6 shipments of 25,559 cars, though being below the corresponding 1904-5 season figures of 29,607 cars.

Receipts of grain and flour at San Francisco during the month aggregated 1,322,616 bushels, compared with 1,635,934 bushels received during September, 1906. Of the total receipts for the month, about 74 per cent are credited to interior points, 21 per cent to Oregon and Washington points, and about 5 per cent to points on the San Francisco coast. Figures for the nine months of the year, 10,815,997, are 18 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures, gains being most notable in the cases of barley, oats, and flour, while the wheat receipts show a decline of over half a million bushels as compared with last year's figures. Shipments by sea for the nine months of the year, 5,460,253, are more than double the corresponding 1906 figures, the largest gains being shown in the cases of barley and flour. Live-stock arrivals from the interior and California coast during the nine months, 37,120 head, are considerably below the corresponding 1906 figures of 53,111 head, while receipts of sugar, mainly from Hawaii, 438,589,600 pounds, are about 30 per cent below the corresponding 1906 figures. The coal receipts for the nine months, 232,314 tons, show an even heavier decline as compared with the 1906 receipts of 357,890 tons. The receipts of oil during the same period, on the other hand, 5,375,875 barrels, are almost double those reported for 1906—2,759,174 barrels.

Vessel arrivals at San Francisco during September aggregated 415,140 net tons register, compared with 392,857 tons reported for September, 1906, while figures for the nine months of the year, 3,450,698 net tons, show a similar increase over the corresponding 1906 figures of 2,755,660 net tons. Of the total arrivals for the month, 286,243 net tons represented a coastwise movement, while 128,897 were arrivals in the foreign trade. Like figures for nine months of the year were 2,453,171 net tons in the coastwise trade and 997,527 net tons in the foreign trade, comparing favorably with the corresponding 1906 figures of 1,919,649 net tons in the coastwise trade and 836,011 net tons in the foreign trade.

Lumber shipments from Portland, Oreg., during the month, 9,022,061 feet, show a heavy decline both as compared with the preceding month's as well as with the September, 1906, figures—the loss affecting equally the domestic shipments as well as exports. Figures for the nine months of the year, 137,196,235 feet, were about 20 per cent below the corresponding 1906 total, and were composed of 66,290,463 feet exported and 70,905,772 feet shipped to domestic destinations. Wheat shipments for the month totaled 714,923 bushels, of which 639,507 bushels constituted exports, while flour shipments for the month aggregated 177,780 barrels, of which 164,236 barrels were exported. Shipments of wheat for the nine months of the year, of which 85 per cent constituted exports, aggregated 4,990,571 bushels, while the shipments of flour for the same period totaled 1,261,163 barrels, of which 1,156,970 barrels were shipped to foreign destinations. Shipping arrivals at the port for the month included 60 vessels of 73,936 net tons register, compared with 44 vessels of 52,468 net tons reported for September, 1906.

Principal coastwise shipments from Seattle during September comprise 49,200 tons of coal, 890,000 feet of lumber, and 17,892 tons of miscellaneous merchandise, besides 9,784 tons of merchandise shipped to local ports. Shipments to southeastern Alaska comprise 2,420 barrels of flour, 11,312 bushels of oats, 229 head of live stock, 2,657 cases of meat, 408 tons of hay, 1,476,000 feet of lumber, 17,157 packages of machinery, 1,825 cases of powder, 6,862 rails, 2,258 cases of hardware, and 480 cases of clothing. The movement for the month, on the whole, shows a larger volume than during August of the same year, and during the corresponding month of 1906. Shipping arrivals for the nine months of the year aggregated 680 vessels of 1,148,966 tons register, compared with 642 vessels of 1,041,881 tons reported for the first three quarters of 1906.

VII.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS ON RIVERS AND CANALS.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 567.]

Upstream traffic during September on the Monongahela River at Lock No. 1, representing the maximum upstream movement on that river, comprised 156,681 tons, compared with 129,022 and 109,126 tons reported for September, 1906 and 1905. Sand, gravel, and iron and steel products, comprising 45,138, 98,345, and 11,044 tons, respectively, composed the bulk of this movement. Downstream traffic on the river during September at Lock No. 3, representing the maximum downstream movement on the river, 833,633 tons, also shows a larger volume than the 1906 and 1905 figures of 677,951 and 646,316 tons, respectively; of the latter movement 802,660 was represented by coal and 29,448 tons by sand. Figures of upstream traffic for the nine months of the year, 1,252,970 tons, as well as the figures of downstream traffic for the season, 7,374,530 tons, both show larger volumes than the totals for the two preceding years.

River traffic in both directions by way of Davis Island Dam for the month, 135,907 tons, while considerably below the figures for the preceding month, is, however, largely in excess of the September figures for the two preceding years, the gain being due principally to the heavier downstream movement of coal and upstream movement of sand. Figures of traffic in both directions for the nine months of the year, 2,629,656, of which 2,168,720 tons represented a downstream movement, compare favorably with the corresponding 1906 total, 1,879,582 tons, though being about 18 per cent below the 1905 total of 3,210,975 tons. Of the total traffic recorded for the season, 2,111,615 tons was represented by coal moving downstream mainly and 407,970 tons by sand, the bulk of which moved upstream. The total number of vessels passing the dam in either direction during September, 1,376, was far in excess of the vessel movement for September, 1906 and 1905, while the figures for the season, 18,472 vessels, are more than double those reported for the 1906 season and 29 per cent in excess of the 1905 figures.

Traffic through the Louisville and Portland Canal and Falls of the Ohio River at Louisville, Ky., during September aggregated 62,830 tons, compared with 10,964 and 22,824 tons reported for September, 1906 and 1905; the increase in total traffic, which used the canal exclusively during the month, was due to the larger quantities of lumber, iron ore manufactures, miscellaneous merchandise, and particularly coal transported. Traffic figures for the nine months of the year, 1,226,414 tons, compare favorably with the September, 1906, figures, 961,053 tons, though being over 100,000 tons below the corresponding 1905 total. About 89 per cent of the total traffic reported is represented by coal, miscellaneous merchandise being the item next in importance.

Arrivals by river at Cairo during the month numbered 608 vessels of 332,583 tons, compared with 670 vessels of 359,603 tons reported during September, 1906. Of the total arrivals, 392 vessels of 224,255 tons represented a through movement, and 216 vessels of 108,328 tons a local movement. Arrivals for the nine months of the year numbered 6,519 vessels of 4,047,203 tons, compared with 6,043 vessels of 3,439,344 tons reported for the corresponding 1906 period. Of the total number of vessels reported for the season, 1,717 vessels of 659,793 tons were steamers and 4,802 of 3,387,410 tons were boats and barges, the corresponding 1906 figures being 1,831 steamers of 634,727 tons and 4,212 boats and barges of 2,804,617 tons.

The freight movement on the New York State canals during the month shows the unusually low total of 365,798 tons, composed of 298,093 tons of way freight and 67,705 tons of through freight, compared with 350,605 tons of way freight and 149,659 tons of through freight shipped during September, 1906. Figures of total traffic for the season until the end of September, 2,310,128 tons, are below the corresponding 1906 figures of 2,487,482 tons, though about 100,000 tons above the 1905 season figures. Of the total freight shipped, 1,693,099 tons represented an eastward and 617,029 tons a westward movement.

Figures of total freight traffic at Buffalo by way of the Erie Canal for the month, 235,039 tons, are below the corresponding 1906 figures of 257,536 net tons, the decrease being due to smaller shipments for the month, 134,545 net tons, compared with 159,895 net tons reported for September, 1906. Figures of total traffic for the season, 1,227,316 tons, are slightly below the corresponding 1906 total, losses occurring in the volume of both receipts and shipments.

VIII.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS OF COAL, COKE, AND PETROLEUM—PIG-IRON PRODUCTION.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 571.]

Anthracite coal shipments from eastern producing territory during September, 5,442,334 gross tons, while lower than the figures for the preceding summer months, do not indicate, however, any substantial decrease in mining operations, the average daily shipments being slightly above those for July, though somewhat below those for June and August. As compared with the corresponding figures for the earlier years, September shipments were the largest since 1901. Shipments for the nine months of the year, 49,645,616 gross tons, are about 23 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures and likewise represent the largest season figures recorded.

Coal and coke traffic originating on the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's lines east of Pittsburg and Erie during the four weeks ending September 28, 4,645,115 net tons, show a 17 per cent increase over the corresponding 1906 and a 23 per cent increase over the 1905 figures, though being somewhat below the total for the preceding four weeks' period, 4,680,314 net tons. Figures for thirty-nine weeks of the year, 43,329,651 net tons, are over 7 millions in excess of the 1906 season figures and over 10 millions larger than the corresponding 1905 figures. Of the total shipments during the season over 66 per cent is represented by bituminous coal, 24 per cent by coke, and less than 10 per cent by anthracite.

Movements of coal and coke during August over the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway totaled 1,093,156 net tons, of which 1,057,042 net tons represent traffic originating at points along the road, while 36,114 net tons are stated to have been received from connections. Figures for the year, 7,483,269 net tons, of which 7,177,023 net tons represent tonnage originating on the road itself, are about 500,000 tons in excess of the preceding year's figures, the gain being due mainly to heavier coal shipments out of the Kanawha district.

September figures of coal and coke traffic originating on the Pittsburg and Lake Erie Railroad and short lines, 1,396,313 net tons, while considerably above the September, 1906, total shows, however, a decline as compared with the figures for the summer months. Shipments for the nine months of the year, 12,171,300 tons, are about 3 per cent below the corresponding 1906 figures, the small total being due mainly to decreased shipments of Pittsburg district gas and steam coal during the earlier part of the year.

The movement of coal and coke originating on the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg Railroad during the month, 669,152 tons, is about 19 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures, though slightly below the totals for the earlier summer months; figures for the nine months of the year, 5,795,206 tons, compare even more favorably with the corresponding 1906 total of 3,758,280 tons.

About the same remarks apply to the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad's figures of coal and coke traffic originating in the Tioga and Beech Creek district, the September figures, 716,562 tons, while largely in excess of the September, 1906, figures of 545,462 tons, showing a slight decrease as compared with the preceding month's total. Figures for the nine months of the year, 6,235,578 tons, are about 46 per cent in excess of the figures for the 1906 season, the Tioga district especially showing a large gain in operations as compared with last year.

The Southern Railway reports 277,747 tons of coal shipped during the month of August, of which total 113,378 tons originated in the Tennessee district and 164,369 tons in the Alabama district. Figures for the eight months of the year, 2,545,803 tons shipped, show a substantial increase over the preceding years' totals, gains over last year's figures occurring in the movements from both of the districts named.

The estimated coke production at Connellsville, including the lower district for the 39 weeks of the year, 16,062,023 net tons, is 9 per cent in excess of the 1906 output of 14,764,428. The average rate of output for the month was probably larger than for any preceding month in the history of the district. The number of cars used in shipping this product out of the district during the 39 weeks is given as 561,241, compared with 559,828 used during the corresponding period of 1906. Of the total cars forwarded, 189,859 were destined to Pittsburg and the river, 331,974 to points west of Pittsburg, and 39,426 to points east of Connellsville.

Production of anthracite and coke pig iron for the month, 2,183,487 tons, shows a rate of output equal to that for the earlier months, the production figures for the various districts showing but few relative changes. As compared with the September, 1906, figures an increase of 18 per cent is shown—practically all important districts sharing in this increase. Figures for the nine months of the year, 19,916,111 tons, are 10 per cent in excess of the corresponding 1906 figures, the gains for the year being especially notable in the case of the Pittsburg, Western Pennsylvania, Mahoning Valley districts, and the works in the Middle West.

Runs of petroleum from wells in the Appalachian, Lima-Indiana, and Mid-Continent fields during September aggregated 8,267,355 barrels. Gross stocks of the reporting pipe-line companies at the end of the month are stated as 49,669,166 barrels, while regular deliveries to consumers during the month aggregated 7,876,071 barrels.

Coastwise shipments of crude oil from Port Arthur and Sabine, Tex., during September, as reported by the Oil Investors' Journal, 231,944 barrels, show a heavy decline as compared with the September, 1906, figures of 589,595 barrels. Like shipments of refined oil totalled 249,020 barrels, compared with only 10,721 reported for September, 1906. Total coastwise shipments of oil of all varieties, 485,987 barrels, were almost 40 per cent below the September, 1906, shipments of 798,169 barrels. Figures of coastwise shipments of all oil for the nine months of the year, 5,949,230, are over 16 per cent below the corresponding 1906 shipments. The principal destinations of these shipments in the order of their importance appear to have been New York, 1,280,301 barrels; Philadelphia, 823,258 barrels; Bayonne, N. J., 788,757 barrels; Delaware River stations, 490,112 barrels; Port Tampa, Fla., 321,762 barrels; Galveston, 291,613 barrels; Baltimore, 201,767 barrels; Beverly, Mass., 154,534 barrels, and New Orleans, 112,561 barrels.

IX.—FREIGHT RATES ON THE GREAT LAKES.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 576.]

Grain rates on the Great Lakes showed an upward trend for the month, the rates quoted at the end of the month being about equal to those prevailing during the early summer. Thus the rate on corn from Chicago to Lake Erie ports, which stood at  $1\frac{1}{4}$  cents per bushel at the beginning of the month, rose to  $1\frac{3}{8}$  cents on the sixth of the month and to  $1\frac{1}{2}$  cents on the 13th, reaching  $1\frac{1}{4}$  cents on the 25th, which rate prevailed during the last week of the month. The rate on wheat from Duluth to Lake Erie ports remained steady at  $1\frac{1}{4}$  cents up to the 26th of the month, when it was raised to 2 cents, which was the quotation at the end of the month.

X.—CHANGES IN OCEAN FREIGHT RATES.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 576.]

Published ocean freight rates on grain shipped from Boston and New York to principal ports, while differing but slightly from the preceding month's quotations, show a considerably higher level than a year ago. The New York rates to Hamburg, on the other hand, show no change, while the Boston rate to the same port is lower than that quoted during September, 1906. New York rates on flour were higher than a year ago. New Orleans cotton rates to Liverpool and Bremen also show an upward trend for the month.

XI.—CHANGES IN RAILROAD FREIGHT RATES.

[For tables pertaining to this section see page 578.]

No changes in railroad rates were reported to the office by the Interstate Commerce Commission during the month of September, 1907.

While the number of localities from which smaller car-service operations are reported for the month is not great, including the territory covered by the Butte Terminal, Lake Superior, Louisville, Texas, and Wisconsin associations, complaints on the part of shippers of the insufficiency of the car supply are becoming more numerous. In the Middle West the scarcity of cars is said to restrict the movement of coal, while in the Northwest the grain shippers find it difficult to obtain the necessary car supply, with the result that in some localities many elevators have been forced to close down for the time being. A shortage of coal is reported at Lake Erie ports, due to lack of cars, and an abnormal accumulation of freight at the important traffic centers of Buffalo and Pittsburg is also ascribed to the inability of the railroads to handle with proper dispatch the freight offered.

I.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS AT INTERIOR CENTERS.

The territory embraced in this section extends from Minneapolis, in the Northwest, to Little Rock, in the Southwest, east as far as Buffalo, and south as far as the Ohio River. Interior traffic movements for September and nine months of succeeding years are shown by tables of live-stock receipts and shipments and comparative stocks of provisions at the most important packing-house centers; by tables of receipts and shipments of flour, grain, produce, and merchandise, and by trunk-line shipments of flour, grain, and provisions from Chicago. During the season of canal navigation, canal and rail traffic in grain, flour, and general merchandise at Buffalo is given under this section. Ohio River traffic is reported under Section VII—Commercial movements on rivers and canals.

WESTERN LIVE-STOCK MOVEMENT.

This movement includes receipts and shipments for September and nine months at important interior markets for three successive years. For receipts of live stock at other markets, whose operations are reported in this issue, reference should be made to the general trade movement of these sections.

COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS OF LIVE STOCK AT INTERIOR MARKETS DURING SEPTEMBER AND NINE MONTHS ENDING SEPTEMBER, 1905-1907.

II.—DOMESTIC COMMERCE ON THE GREAT LAKES.

The traffic taken account of in the following tables, except where otherwise specified, is coastwise traffic only, and is confined strictly to commerce between domestic ports during the month of September and nine months ending with September. Unless otherwise credited, the statistics of domestic commerce reported herewith are compiled from supplementary manifests prepared by masters of vessels reporting through the collectors of customs.

During the month of September transactions at 151 ports of receipt and 223 ports of shipment were reported. The number of vessels arriving in September was 9,388 and the clearances numbered 9,464 vessels. The registered tonnage for the month was as follows: Arrivals, 13,039,733 net tons; clearances, 12,969,647 net tons. This total does not include the tonnage of vessels engaged in trade between the United States and Canada.

SUMMARY OF DOMESTIC LAKE TRAFFIC, SEPTEMBER AND NINE MONTHS ENDING SEPTEMBER, 1905-1907.

A summary of the lake traffic for September, compared with the corresponding months in 1905 and 1906, is given in the following table. The various quantities and units of freight are reduced to their equivalents in net tons. September receipts in 1907 at all ports reporting were 11,105,250 net tons, compared with 10,081,891 net tons in September, 1906, and 8,029,855 net tons in September, 1905. The figures of shipments of coal include coal loaded for vessels' fuel consumption.

Includes bunker coal for vessels' use, the quantities of which are stated separately on page 545.

Flaxseed receipts at lake ports during September, 1907, amounted to 375,588 bushels. Buffalo received 300,588 bushels and Toledo 75,000 bushels. There were shipped during September 385,588 bushels. Duluth shipped 259,153 bushels and Superior-West Superior 126,435 bushels.

During the nine months ending September, 7,013,047 bushels were received. Buffalo received 5,754,119 bushels, Chicago-South Chicago 350,923 bushels, Cleveland 296,000 bushels, and Toledo 612,000 bushels. There were shipped 6,763,859 bushels. Duluth shipped 4,051,928 bushels and Superior-West Superior 2,711,931 bushels.

Merchandise transported between United States points, but passing under bond through Canadian territory, is known as "in-transit" movement. That class of tonnage which required the use of the Great Lakes as a link in its journey in September consisted of the following: Receipts at Chicago-South Chicago, 5,591 tons of unclassified freight; Conneaut, 56 tons of unclassified freight; Gladstone, 79 tons of unclassified freight, and Milwaukee, 1,624 tons of unclassified freight. Shipments from Chicago-South Chicago, 331,230 bushels of wheat, 299,999 bushels of corn, and 1,919 tons of unclassified freight; Conneaut, 997 tons of iron manufactures and 144 tons of soft coal, and Duluth 52 tons of unclassified freight.

The total "in-transit" movement for September was 997 tons of iron manufactures, 144 tons of soft coal, 331,230 bushels of wheat, 299,999 bushels of corn, and 9,321 tons of unclassified freight.

During September, 1907, there were inspected to vessels at Chicago, as reported by the municipal grain inspector, 7,104,123 bushels of grain, composed of 2,703,864 bushels wheat, 4,201,131 bushels corn, and 199,128 bushels oats. During the season ending September 30, 1907, the total quantity of grain inspected before loading into vessels was 44,495,627 bushels, as compared with 44,892,357 bushels during the same period in 1906.

GRAIN RECEIPTS AT SIX DOMESTIC SEAPORTS.

Below is given a comparative table of receipts of grain, including flour and meal reduced to bushels, at six seaboard markets, during September and nine months ending September, 1905, 1906, and 1907. The figures are derived in every case from the reports of the commercial organizations closely identified with the grain trade at the respective localities. These totals serve to show the relative share of each port in this branch of domestic commerce.

IV.—COASTWISE COMMERCE AT ATLANTIC AND GULF PORTS.

The scope of commercial movements represented in this section usually includes receipts and shipments of merchandise between New York and New England ports, giving the bulk of the water-borne trade of nine of these ports with New York; coal shipments by water from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, and Newport News to seaboard points north and south; coastwise receipts of southern pine and eastern spruce, by cargoes, at New York from sources of origin, and coastwise and foreign shipping movements at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Mobile, Galveston, Port Arthur, and Sabine Pass. Coastwise coal shipments from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport News, and Norfolk are also presented. Coastwise shipments of petroleum from Texas producing territory to Atlantic and Gulf ports are given in Section VIII. Representative freight rates quoted to leading destinations on the eastern and southern coasts are shown in Section IX.

COAL SHIPMENTS BY WATER FROM NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA, BALTIMORE, NEWPORT NEWS, NORFOLK.

Through the courtesy and cooperation of nearly all of the more prominent shippers of coal by water from the middle Atlantic ports of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport News, and Norfolk, to Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific coast ports, the following figures of the coastwise coal movement have been obtained. These statistics cover probably more than 90 per cent of the shipments for the places and periods mentioned, and include both anthracite and bituminous coal. Anthracite coal is shipped principally from New York Harbor wharves. From Philadelphia shipments are primarily bituminous and secondarily anthracite. From Baltimore, Newport News, and Norfolk shipments are almost wholly bituminous. During September vessels were supplied with fuel at these five ports to the amount of 285,048 tons, and during nine months ending September 2,473,698 tons.

During September 69 collectors of customs report 631,530 gross tons of coal loaded on vessels for fueling purposes on the Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific coasts. Of this total, 187,108 tons were placed on board vessels destined to domestic ports and 444,422 tons on foreign-bound vessels. The total value of this tonnage was reported as being $2,135,965, an average of about $3.38 per ton.

V.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS IN SOUTHERN TERRITORY.

The territory covered in this section includes that lying south of the Potomac and Ohio rivers and east of the Mississippi River and that portion west of the Mississippi included in the State of Louisiana, the Indian Territory, and Texas. The characteristic traffic movements are those of cotton, lumber, naval stores, and general commodities.

Cotton-trade reports include the statement of the quantity of the crop brought into sight and its disposition, during successive crop years, to the end of August. Other articles of traffic reported are the grain and rice movements at New Orleans, shipments of yellow pine from the Southwest and from Virginia and the Carolinas to destinations, and river and rail traffic at Louisville, Ky., and Little Rock, Ark. Southern river trade is given in Section VII, southern coastwise shipments under Section IV.

SOUTHERN COTTON MOVEMENT.

According to the practice of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, whose official figures are used, except when otherwise specified, the amount of cotton brought into sight from month to month during the season includes (1) receipts from plantations at ports; (2) receipts at the overland points of crossing on the Mississippi, Ohio, and Potomac rivers for shipment direct to northern and eastern mills, and (3) takings by southern mills. To this must be added (4) stocks left over at the end of the year at ports and interior towns. These four items together give the total commercial supply available for distribution.

VI. COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

Traffic operations reported in this territory consist mainly of receipts from productive areas on the Pacific slope at seaboard ports of outlet, of coastwise movements between the upper and the lower Pacific coasts, and of overland shipments to the East. The operations usually reported include receipts and shipments of merchandise at San Francisco; redwood lumber shipments from upper California; arrivals of redwood, pine, and fir at California coast points; lumber shipments from principal mills reporting in Washington; commerce at the ports of Portland, Seattle, and Tacoma, and the shipments of citrus fruit from southern California.

VII.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS ON RIVERS AND CANALS.

The movements of domestic trade represented under this heading are not confined to any particular geographical division of the country. Operations on some of the leading waterways include those on the Monongahela River between Pittsburg, Pa., and Fairmont, W. Va.; the Ohio River at Davis Island dam, Bellevue, Pa., and at Louisville, Ky.; the vessel movement at Cairo, Ill., on the Ohio and the Mississippi rivers; the traffic movements on the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal, connecting the Chesapeake and Delaware bays, and similar movements on various other navigable streams about whose navigation acceptable information is periodically available.

Unless otherwise specified, the data out of which the following tables are constructed are derived from monthly reports received from the engineers in charge of river and harbor improvements under the auspices of the War Department.

The maximum tonnage on the Big Sandy River for September, 1907, was at Lock No. 2, where 4,794 tons of freight passed, of which 2,340 tons were lumber, timber and ties and 2,454 tons miscellaneous merchandise.

The maximum tonnage on the Cumberland River for September, 1907, was at Lock No. 1, where 3,659 tons of freight passed, of which 623 were lumber and ties, 476 grain, and 2,560 miscellaneous.

Upstream tonnage on the Kentucky River during September, 1907, was largest at Lock No. 1, where 8,548 tons of freight passed, of which 7,209 tons were coal and 1,339 tons were miscellaneous merchandise. Downstream tonnage at Lock No. 7 aggregated 20,134 tons of miscellaneous freight. The grand total freight passing in both directions at locks of maximum tonnage was 28,682 tons.

Upstream tonnage on the Muskingum River during September, 1907, was largest at Lock No. 10, where 1,039 tons of freight passed, of which 95 tons were coal, 29 tons were lumber, and 915 tons miscellaneous merchandise. Downstream tonnage was largest at Lock No. 1, where 3,997 tons of freight passed, of which 20 tons were lumber and 3,977 merchandise. The grand total freight passing in both directions at locks of maximum tonnage was 5,036 tons.

TRAFFIC ON THE MONONGAHELA RIVER.

The iron and steel products passing Lock No. 1 represent practically the entire river traffic of these products. The coal passing downstream through Lock No. 3, plus 52,596 tons mined in the first and second polls during September, makes a total coal traffic of 855,256 tons for the river during September. Of other downstream freight, 30,973 tons of miscellaneous merchandise are to be added, making a total of 886,229 net tons in September. Lock No. 3 represents approximately the general aggregate of down-river tonnage.

Of upstream freight, that passing through Lock No. 1 represents approximately the general movement in this direction. The freight passing this point in September amounted to 156,681 tons.

The total freight moved in both directions, on this basis of calculation, was 1,042,910 net tons in September, 1907, as against 879,898 net tons in September, 1906, and 780,644 tons in September, 1905.

For nine months ending with September the total movement was 9,204,789 tons in 1907, 8,437,680 tons in 1906, and 8,198,724 tons in 1905.

VESSEL MOVEMENT ON THE MISSISSIPPI AND OHIO RIVERS VIA CAIRO, ILL.

The following table is compiled from monthly reports received from Cairo, Ill., giving the number and tonnage of vessels passing or having their termini there. The tonnage of boats and barges is estimated tonnage. The tonnage of steamboats is actual.

The total through movement represents vessels passing Cairo to or from points on the Ohio, Mississippi, and other rivers. The local movement at Cairo represents vessels having Cairo as one of their termini. (The monthly reports of arrivals and clearances are made by Mr. George Parsons, trustee of Cairo trust property, who is intimately acquainted with river operations at this point.)

For the nine months ending September 30, 1907, of the vessels reported, 1,425 were loaded with coal; 507 carried lumber, logs, piling, and wood; 46 carried ties; 424 carried merchandise; 18, rocks; 3, grain; 1, blocks; 9, brick; 4, sugar; 7, manufactured iron; 6, wheat, and 1 wire.

VIII.—COMMERCIAL MOVEMENTS OF COAL, COKE, AND PETROLEUM—PRODUCTION OF PIG IRON.

The series of tables following present some of the leading traffic operations in domestic coal, coke, and petroleum; also figures of pig-iron production by principal districts. They include shipments of anthracite coal from the anthracite regions, anthracite and bituminous coal and coke traffic originating east of Pittsburg and Erie on the Pennsylvania Railroad system; coal and coke shipments over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, the Norfolk and Western Railroad, the Southern Railway, and other eastern roads, weekly Connellsville coke output and shipments; St. Louis receipts of coal, and receipts and shipments of coal and coke at Chicago. Petroleum statistics are included for the pipe-line territory in the Appalachian, Lima-Indiana, and Midcontinental fields. Statistics of pig-iron production cover the principal producing districts, and are exclusive of small quantities of charcoal iron. For coastwise coal trade generally, see Section IV; for Lake trade, Section II.

PRODUCTION AND SHIPMENTS OF CONNELLSVILLE (PA.) COKE.

The following table presents figures of production and shipments of Connellsville coke from Connellsville proper and the so-called "Lower District" as reported in the weekly issues of the Connellsville Courier. The figures represent estimates of the Courier, verified by and combined with the actual tonnage figures of the local railways.

STATEMENT OF PIPE LINES IN APPALACHIAN, LIMA-INDIANA, AND MIDCONTINENT FIELDS.

The following table shows the business of the principal petroleum pipe lines in the Appalachian, Lima-Indiana, and Midcontinent fields. The Appalachian field includes Pennsylvania, New York, West Virginia, southeastern Ohio, Kentucky, and Tennessee. The Lima-Indiana field includes northwestern Ohio, Indiana, and the production in Illinois. The Midcontinent field includes Kansas, Indian Territory, and Oklahoma.

The pipe lines which report no runs from wells receive their oil through other pipe lines. The regular deliveries represent deliveries to refineries and for export, and do not include deliveries to other pipe lines. The runs from wells represent Appalachian oil exclusively in all cases except three, namely: The Buckeye, which receives Appalachian crude from southeastern Ohio and Lima-Indiana crude from northwestern Ohio; the Indiana Pipe Line Company, which receives crude from Indiana and Illinois, and the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, which operates in the Midcontinent field.

Prior to August, 1906, the Buckeye pipe line reported separately its Appalachian crude, and its Lima-Indiana crude was reported jointly with that of the Indiana pipe line. Also, prior to this date, the pipe lines distinguished deliveries and net stocks of Appalachian oil from those of Lima-Indiana oil, but at present the deliveries and stocks of several of the companies reported in the following table include both kinds of crude oil.

Net stocks, often called liabilities, represent the amount of oil for which the pipe lines have receipted to producers and which they are liable for. In addition, the pipe lines hold a certain amount of sediment and surplus oil which, combined with net stocks, constitute gross stocks.

XI.—CHANGES IN RAILROAD FREIGHT RATES.

Changes in railroad freight rates are obtained through the courtesy of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the auditor of that body transmitting them on the latest date which will permit of their insertion in the Summary. In this manner their publication is assured as soon after their receipt as possible, and as a rule they cover a period nearly a month later than that represented by other statements throughout this report.

The matter of deciding what changes shall be considered of enough importance to be presented is left entirely to the discretion of the Commission, all tables which they submit being published without reservation of any kind. This, however, must not be taken to indicate that all important changes are included, as such a presentation would be a practical impossibility, owing to the great number of tariffs to be examined and the short time in which to procure the rates therefrom.

No important changes in railroad freight rates were reported by the Interstate Commerce Commission for the month of September, 1907.

<sup>a</sup> The sovereign is the standard coin of India ($0.32444), but the rupee is the money of account, current at 15 to the sovereign.

<sup>b</sup> On and after May 1, 1905, the silver dollar is valued at $0.498.

c Seventy-five centigrams fine gold.

<sup>d</sup> The current coin of the Straits Settlements is the silver dollar issued on Government account and which has been given a tentative value of $0.5677584.

e The British dollar has the same value as the Mexican dollar in Hongkong and Labuan.

NOTE.—The coins of silver-standard countries are valued by their pure silver contents at the average market price of silver for the three months preceding the dates of this table.
